

HOME TEAM WON

From Altoona F. A. C. Club Last Friday

SMITH'S GREAT CATCH

Pitcher Diehl Allowed But Three Hits and Struck Out Eleven Men—Score 5-4.

The Bedford fans were treated to one of the finest games of ball witnessed on the Bedford grounds this season when the home team defeated the Altoona F. A. C. club with a score of 5 to 4, on Friday, July 31. One man often makes or breaks a ball team. Instances of this have been seen many times in Bedford but never has it been so strongly shown as by the improvement of the Bedford team in the addition of Pitcher Clyde Diehl, who certainly pitches like a big leaguer. He only permitted Altoona to have three hits and struck out 11 of their batsmen.

Harold Smith, who caught the game, deserves a great deal of credit; he not only caught a great game of ball but caught the crowd when he made a circus catch of a high foul fly ball, which he was compelled to turn a handspring over the players' bench in order to secure. This great play brought the crowd to their feet and the way they cheered you would have thought from a distance that the Democrats were holding the Denver Convention in the grandstand and that some one had mentioned W. J. Bryan's name.

The locals played an up-hill game from the fourth inning but were equal to the occasion and made a grandstand finish. When two were out in the last inning and score stood 4 to 4, Diehl made a hit through shortstop, and Cullen, the next batter up, drove the ball over the center-fielder's head for two bases, scoring Diehl from first with the winning run.

The Altoona baseball club also played brilliant ball, their fielders only having one misplay during the entire game, but the locals were there with the bingle when it was needed. They landed on Pitcher Huffman in the seventh for four hits which meant three runs, then Manager Satterfield put Pitcher Brady in the box, who was the first left-handed slab artist of the season on the Bedford grounds. The score follows:

ALTOONA.	AB.	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Keller, 8b	5	1	0	1	3	0
Gable, ss	4	0	0	0	3	1
Eisenhart, 2b	4	0	1	2	3	0
Singer, rf & c	3	1	0	0	0	0
Brown, c & rf	4	0	0	8	0	0
Barndollar, cf	4	0	1	1	0	0
Cherry, lf	4	1	1	1	0	0
Huffman, p & 2b	2	1	0	0	1	0
Martz, 1b	4	0	13	0	0	0
Brady, p	1	0	0	0	1	0

Totals	35	4	8	26	11	1
BEDFORD.	AB.	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
H. Diehl, ss	5	2	2	1	1	1
Cullen, 3b	4	0	1	1	2	1
G. Diehl, cf	4	0	1	2	0	0
Herr, 2b	4	0	0	2	3	0
Whetstone, 1b	1	0	0	8	0	1
Arnold, lf	4	1	1	0	0	0
H. Smith, c	3	1	0	13	0	1
Wagner, rf	4	1	1	0	0	1
C. Diehl, p	4	0	1	0	2	1

Totals ... 33 5 7 27 8 6

*Two out when winning run was scored.

Altoona ... 0 0 1 2 0 0 1 0 0 4

Bedford ... 0 0 1 0 0 0 3 0 1 5

Earned runs—Bedford, 4. Two-base hits—Cullen, G. Diehl, Wagner, Cherry. First on balls—Off Huffman, 2; Brady, 2; Diehl, 2. Struck out—By Diehl, 11; by Huffman, 5; by Brady, 2. Left on bases—Bedford, 7; Altoona, 6. First base on errors—Bedford, 1; Altoona, 5. Hit by pitcher—Smith. Time of Game—2:05. Umpire—Joseph.

Smith's Run
A face. hit his the on hit home took slid Smith He
to third.
first to
He stole him to down sec- let ond' throw base. wild —Bohemian.

I. O. O. F. REUNION

Large Crowd Attends Celebration at Coaldale.

A hard rain during the morning marred the pleasure of those who attended the third annual reunion of the Odd Fellows at Coaldale on Wednesday, but later in the day the rain ceased and the program was carried out. Between three and four thousand people were in attendance.

At 11 o'clock there was a large parade of the I. O. O. F. and Rebecca Lodges. Rev. R. H. Colburn delivered the address of welcome and was responded to by Rev. E. L. Eslinger. Christian W. Myers, Grand Master of Pennsylvania, was the principal orator, and addresses were made by M. H. Kramer, Esq., of Hyndman and District Attorney H. D. Tate.

The Osterburg, Hopewell and Coaldale Bands and the Saxton Glee Club furnished the music. The uniform drill by the Rebekah degree team of Six Mile Run was a pleasing feature of the exercises. The ball game between the Saxton and Coaldale teams was won by the former.

PREPARATIONS FOR FAIR

Finest Exhibition in Years—Good Races Scheduled.

Active work is under way for the holding of the county fair in October. The board of directors has purchased lumber for a new grandstand which will be erected on the site of the old one. It will be larger than the old stand and will be substantial and comfortable in every respect.

The stables will be repaired and enlarged. The board would like to tear down the present stables and erect new ones but the lack of funds will not permit of that this year. Some of the old sheds will be removed and the race track put in good shape.

Concessions are being let and those of our home people who desire space on the grounds should apply at once. There will be quite a number of attractions and it is hoped that the people of the county will arrange to make a creditable display of farm and other products. The state now pays $500 to the fair for premiums and this money is distributed promptly to the prize winners at the close of the fair.

A splendid racing program has been prepared and the public will be given many amusements and attractions. The directors are doing all they can to insure a successful fair and have the cordial support of the people of this community. It is the intention to have a full four-days' fair and special efforts will be made to make the last three days of unusual interest. There will be no difference in the attractions, and people coming on Wednesday or Friday will see as much and be as well entertained as those who attend on Thursday. Interest is being aroused over the county and a record breaking crowd is looked for.

CALVIN D. REED

Riddlesburg Man Meets Death at Kitting.

Calvin D. Reed, a young Pittsburg division brakeman residing at Juniata, was the victim of a fatal accident at Kittanning Point about 3 o'clock last Sunday morning as his train was coming down the mountain. While crossing the cars in the discharge of his duty he fell through the hopper of a coal car that had derailed and was ground to death under the wheels. His body was badly mangled though head and face escaped mutilation.

Deceased was a son of John and Elizabeth Reed and was born in this county on April 17, 1884. After the death of his parents he made his home with an aunt until two years ago when he entered the employ of the P. R. R. Company. He was a member of the Relief Association and had a wide acquaintanceship in Juniata. Two brothers survive: Melvin C. of Riddlesburg and Oliver M. of Juniata. The body was taken to his former home on Monday and interment made at that place.

REV. B. F. BAUSMAN

Accepts Call to Harrisburg Mission—To Leave October 1.

Rev. B. F. Bausman of Cessna, who has been pastor of the Dunning's Creek Reformed Church for almost eight years, has accepted a call to the Enola Mission near Harrisburg and will enter upon his new work October 1.

Rev. Bausman made many friends in this county because of the sterling qualities he possesses. He will be missed not only by the congregations he has so faithfully served but by the whole community. The Gazette regrets his departure because of the promptness with which he reported births, marriages and deaths occurring in his congregations. We could call upon him at any time for assistance in securing desired information and he always cheerfully responded. He is a gentleman of value to any community, both in and out of the pulpit.

Installation Service

Rev. H. W. Bender, pastor of the Schellsburg Lutheran church, was installed Sunday morning, August 2, at Pleasantville. Rev. William H. Schoch of New Berlin delivered the charge to the pastor and Rev. Charles E. Keller, D. D., of Roaring Spring delivered the charge to the congregation. Twenty-eight members of the Schellsburg congregation and about fifteen members and others were present from the Fishertown congregation.

Those from a distance were hospitably entertained by the good people of the Pleasantville congregation. It was a delightful occasion and one long to be remembered by all who enjoyed the worship and fellowship.

Juniata Reunion

The annual reunion of the Bedford County students and friends of Juniata College will be held in Williams' Grove, Everett, on Saturday, August 15. The following program will be rendered: Addresses by Prof. J. Harvey Brumbaugh, Acting President of Juniata College, and Prof. O. R. Myers; Essay, Mrs. Jennie Calhoun Baker; Reading, Miss Ethel Debaugh.

Marriage Licenses

Frank P. Lohr of Hooversville and Mrs. Kathryn J. Penrose of Kegg. Ernest W. Warren of Pittsburg and Mary P. Moyle of Everett. William H. Giffin of Carbon Township, Huntingdon County, and Mrs. Laura C. Poor of Brezewood. Willard Taylor Burket of Bedford and Flora Kimmell of Schellsburg.

100TH ANNIVERSARY

Of the Laying-Out of Schellsburg in 1808 by

JOHN SCHELL, ESQ.,

To Be Appropriately Observed on September Third and Fourth—Program Arranged.

Many of the sons and daughters of the town who have gone out into the world are expected to return for Schellsburg's Centennial celebration on September 3-4.

The preliminary arrangements have been made, the program arranged and the committees are at work along the several lines. Let all those who have gone out from her borders and all who are or have been in any way connected with the historic town return for the occasion.

PROGRAM

Thursday, September 3

9 a. m.—Address of Welcome.

Response ... Hon. William P. Schell

10 a. m.—General Parade: Secret

Orders, Trades Display; parade to represent 100 years ago and the present, etc.

1:30 p. m.—Races

3:00 p. m.—Baseball game

7:30 p. m.—Historical Sketch and Reminiscences

Friday, September 4

Picnic in a grove on edge of town

1:30 p. m.—Address by S. A. Van

Ormer, Editor of the Bedford Gazette

3:00 p. m.—Baseball game

6:00 p. m.—Mummers' parade

8:00 p. m.—Fireworks

The program throughout will be interspersed with instrumental and vocal music. Following are the heads of committees.

President, John E. Garlinger.

Music, Frank S. Beaver.

Baseball, William S. Whitmore.

Parades, Jacob F. Poorman.

Grounds, Walter F. Schell.

Finance, William J. Beagle and Miss Jennie Kemmer.

Program, Rev. W. H. Bender.

Chief Marshal, Capt. W. W. Van

Ormer.

ANNUAL TENNIS TOURNAMENT

For Championship of Southern Pennsylvania August 10-14.

A good list of entries is already assigned for the second annual Tennis

Tournament at Bedford Springs for the championship of Southern Pennsylvania. Bedford will be well represented, as will also Cumberland,

Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Harrisburg,

Hagerstown, Altoona, Chester, and surrounding towns.

The new Bedford Springs Challenge Cup, to be played for this year and which has to be won three times to become permanent property, is now on exhibition in the hotel lobby,

as are also the other Tournament

Cups. These cups show particularly good taste in their selection and are well worth struggling for.

The events are: Men's singles, men's doubles, mixed doubles, and women's doubles. The matches will be best two of three sets, except in finals when best three of five will be played. Deuce and 'vantage sets in all events. The tournament will be played under the auspices and rules of the U. S. National Lawn Tennis

Association; Wright & Dison balls

will be used; S. R. Longenecker,

Esq., will act as referee; contest open to all amateur players.

Tennis week will without doubt be the gayest of the season at the

HECKERMAN LETTER

Enjoying the Climate and Scenery of the Adirondacks.

Concord, N. H.
Adirondacks is the name given to a range of mountains that lie in New York, Vermont and Maine. It is the starting point or birthplace of great rivers and lakes, and the home of many wild animals as the moose, deer and almost all other wild animals are to be found in these mountains. Named Adirondacks by a savage tribe of Indians, there is no such vast mountain territory in the whole civilized world. The adventurous tourist, accompanied by guide, may explore the untrodden wilderness, and hunt and fish to his heart's content. In this vast forest are many lakes of various sizes and along these lake shores are the cultivated garden spots that have developed into very popular resorts, peopled at this season by thousands of representatives of the best society of our cities.

A pleasure trip through the wonderful Adirondacks is a delight and an inspiration; it is a glorious country and holds one spellbound. There are many stage lines from one point to another, places in which the steam whistle has not been heard as yet. A circular tour over the D. & H. R. R. gives one a very good idea of the Adirondacks; each mountain view is succeeded by another, more beautiful, if it can be, than the former. The journey through the incomparably beautiful country of this mountain section should be wound up by a ride on Lake George and Lake Champlain, stopping if time will permit and the bank not break at many points of historic interest en route. Board may be had for $6 to $35 per week, but if the same is no better than the dinner I had at Loon Lake for half-a-dollar I should advise all to carry a lunch basket, else do as I did—after eating all that they gave me—go out on the mountainside and gather blueberries and raspberries to finish out with.

The water is pure and soft, the air clear, dry, and so invigorating that one always has their appetite with them. They say that there is perfect immunity from malaria and hay fever and people only die of old age. These little mountain streams abound in trout while the lakes have pike, black bass and other gamey fish in abundance. If you want to see all over Christendom, go from Wilmington up the White Face, only a climb of six miles, but when you are on top you can see and count sixty-five lakes (Lakes Ontario and Champlain being two of them) and on a clear day one may see the spires of the city of Montreal, Can. When at Plattsburg stop at The Cumberland, free bus and for $2 per day is a dandy, with people who try to do all for your comfort.

The ride from Plattsburg, N. Y., to Burlington, Vt., over Lake Champlain is splendid, a distance of twenty-five miles which the boat makes in less than two hours. This lake freezes in winter and it is on it then that the horsemen race; being level and smooth they go very fast and when cold pull up at one of the little houses built on the ice for the comfort of those out sleighing; then they go it again. It must be great sport and no doubt Jim Steckman would cut quite a dash if he were here in season with his bob-tailed horse.

We have reached Burlington for the first time and doubt if there is any city, town, or village in New England that equals it in its beauty of location and scenery. The hill upon which it is built slopes gradually back for a mile and upon the highest point (College Hill) is built the University of Vermont, a grand old school for boys. This city is visited by thousands of tourists every season. It is located midway between Saratoga and Lake George and furnishes a delightful place at which to rest. The Van Ness Hotel is the best and highest in price, with its two hundred outside rooms, from the most of which one can see Lake Champlain. Many persons come here and rest a day or two and then go to the White mountains. Aside from the attractions of the city itself, the country hereabouts is very pretty and abounds in many nice drives. Dr. Webb's great stock farm of 4,000 acres is only seven miles out and is worth visiting; some of the finest horses in the land are to be seen out there.

The Champlain Yacht Club has its headquarters in Burlington and entertains quite a lot. Montpelier is reached after a ride of forty-two miles on the Central, at three and a half cents per mile. It is another beautiful New England town, not near as large as Burlington but is the capital just the same and is a very pretty city. The capitol stands in a nice green park but in all this country there are no gray squirrels in the parks. This is the great maple sugar country and many make enough money in the spring from the sugar and lasses crop to send one or two lasses to boarding school for a year, besides feeding those remaining at home. The maple syrup I get here on my cakes is genuine and has a flavor that is especially given to that made in this section.

Yours truly,

M. P. Heckerman,

Championship Ball Game!

At Anderson Park at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon the last of three games for the championship between the Wolfsburg and St. Clairsville teams will be played. A Tri-State umpire will officiate and a purse of $50 and gate receipts will go to the winning team. This promises to be an interesting game and a large crowd is expected. Everybody turn out.

PERSONAL NOTES

Arrivals and Departures of Residents and Visitors.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

The Column Everybody Reads—Chat About Your Friends and Neighbors—Here and There.

Miss Alice V. Blair of Hyndman was a Bedford visitor last Saturday. Miss Monica Edmiston of Philadelphia is the guest of relatives at this place.

Prof. C. J. Potts of Llysven was seen on our streets a day or two this week.

Miss Imogene Kidwell of Everett spent last Friday with friends at this place.

Dr. A. S. Smith of Philadelphia is paying a visit to his wife and son at this place.

Miss Regina Calhoun is in Altoona on a visit with her cousin, Miss Lillian Burns.

Dr. Frank H. James of Cumberland spent several days this week with home folks.

Our old friend, Mr. D. M. Wonders of New Paris, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Harry Davis.

Miss Edna McClellan left last Friday to visit in Fostoria, O., and Pittsburg with relatives.

Miss Maud Naus returned Monday evening from a month's visit in Reading and Philadelphia.

Mr. H. E. Whisker and wife, of New Buena Vista, were shopping in town on Wednesday.

Miss Mildred Brown of Patton is a guest of Miss J. Constance Tate, No. 215 South Juliana Street.

Miss Margaret O'Shea of Sheridan is here on a visit with her sister, Mrs. S. S. Claar, and family.

Miss Mira E. Snell is visiting friends in Pittsburg, having left for that city Wednesday morning.

Mr. Robert Donahoe of Altoona is home on a vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Donahoe.

Mrs. Rebecca Klutz, who was visiting her sister at Sulphur Springs, returned to her home here on Monday.

Miss Nell Flursbush of Cumberland, who is on a visit to friends at Mann's Choice, was in Bedford on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gramlich, of Cumberland, and Miss Stewart of Bordentown, N. J., are guests at the Corle House.

Rev. Father D. Cashman of Johnstown, a former Bedford pastor, was greeting old friends at this place a day this week.

Dr. A. L. Garver and family, of Roaring Spring, made a trip to this place in their auto and spent Saturday and Sunday.

Messrs. A. G. Colvin and Brower Struckman, of New Buena Vista, made a business trip to the county seat on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Shuck and son Harold, of Central City, Col., are the guests of Mrs. A. D. Shuck at 209 West Pitt Street.

Mr. Michael Fleming, a prominent farmer of Juniata Township, spent a day recently with his sister, Mrs. Margaret Corboy.

Miss Emily W. Ferguson of Philadelphia, daughter of the late Judge Ferguson, is a visitor at the home of Mrs. Jane M. Kerr.

Messrs. Charles V. Bowers of Johnstown and B. C. Bowers of Rockwood are visiting their mother and sisters at this place.

Prof. and Mrs. M. L. Johnston, of Duff's College, Pittsburg, are guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Eyer at the Reformed parsonage.

Mrs. S. C. Hulse and little daughter Margaret, of New York City, are guests of the former's parents, Hon. and Mrs. J. M. Reynolds.

Miss Cecelia Stoudenour of Pittsburg is spending a vacation at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Stoudenour, on John Street.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Daniels, of South Richard Street, have as their guest the latter's niece, Miss Katherine Poorbaugh of Baltimore.

Mrs. J. L. McLaughlin and daughter Catherine left Wednesday morning for Harrisburg where they will spend a week among old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Neely and two children, of Crestline, O., spent Saturday here en route to St. Clairsville on a visit to Mrs. Neely's parents.

Misses Anna and Florence Gilchrist are here from Altoona as guests at the home of their cousin, Mr. Charles T. Gilchrist, and family.

Mrs. Jacob Bechhoeffer of Broad Avenue and Twenty-Second Street is a guest at the Bedford Springs Hotel for the next ten days.—Altoona Tribune.

Mr. Irwin C. Boor of Washington, D. C., is enjoying a vacation in his home town and is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wy. Boor.

Mr. Wilbur F. Cleaver and son, of Cumberland, and Master John Debaugh of Washington, D. C., are guests at the residence of Mrs. Laura Cleaver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wineman arrived from Washington, D. C., last Saturday in their big touring car and will be guests of the

HEALTH IN HOT WEATHER

Some Good Advice by a Prominent Physician.

These are the summer "health rules" of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, food expert for the United States Government:

Eat one-fourth less in summer than in winter.

Eat meat in moderation. Select the lighter meats.

Banish all alcoholic beverages.

Eat most largely of cooked fruits and vegetables.

Drink nothing below 60 degrees in temperature, and drink sparingly.

Be careful to seek the society of cheerful friends.

Practice moderation in open air exercise.

Don't fret; don't worry.

"Thousands of people are made sick in summer because they do not know how or what to eat," says Dr. Wiley. "But the same criticism applies to the winter season as well. Few people follow definite rules. Moderate eating, moderate drinking, moderate exercise in the open air and cheerful friends will keep any good man alive through the summer."

"Eating in summer should be diminished by about one-quarter, inasmuch as the heat energy is one-quarter less than in winter."

"Fruits and vegetables are the normal diet for summer, provided they are cooked. If eaten raw they should not be contaminated with pathogenic bacteria."

"Few persons who delight in raw fruits for breakfast have any idea of pathogenic bacteria, its appearance or its taste, if it has any. So apples, peaches, grapes and even the delectable grape fruit are to be banished because they may have been contaminated. Stewed prunes are good, if you like them and the contamination has been cooked out of them."

"Care should be taken against over-indulgence in very cold drinks or frozen relishes. On hot days no beverages below 60 degrees in temperature should be taken. Otherwise they are apt to produce what physicians describe as ice-water dyspepsia. Soda water and ice cream are alike bad when taken in large quantities. Observe the law of moderation and eat and drink slowly." Philadelphia Press.

Excellent Health Advice

Mrs. M. M. Davison of No. 379 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy, for headache, biliousness and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at all drug stores. 50c

RECIPES

Green Corn Pancakes—Take a quart of grated corn, one cupful of flour, one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of melted butter, four eggs, one-half of a teaspoonful of salt. Beat the eggs separately, add the yolks to the corn, then the milk, flour and salt; beat well and stir in very carefully the well-beaten whites. Bake on a hot griddle.

Blackberry Jam—Pick over the berries carefully. Put in the preserving kettle over the fire, and after they have begun to cook stir frequently. Boil for 20 minutes. Rub through a fine sieve (if the sieve allows the seeds to pass through, take a cheese-cloth bag) and measure. To every quart of juice allow three cupfuls of granulated sugar. Heat slowly, stirring often, and simmer for three-quarters of an hour.

The Latest Sweet—Fudge has been supplanted in the fancy of the college girl lately by a new sweet which is called "divinity." It takes two saucapans to make the candy—one for three cupfuls of granulated sugar, a cupful of thick syrup and two-thirds of a cupful of water; the other for a cupful of granulated sugar and half a cupful of water. The contents of both pans are allowed to cook until the syrup in them will spin a thread when poured from the spoons, or makes a soft ball between the fingers when dropped in very cold water. When both are ready the syrup in the first pan is turned slowly over the stiffly-beaten whites of three eggs, a continual beating going on during the process. Then the second syrup, with the addition of a cupful of nut meats, is turned over and the frothy mass is turned into a buttered tin, and when cool enough is marked into small blocks.

Children and Sweets

Let the children have sweets. The system craves them. They nourish and build up the tissues. The best time to give children sweets is at meal time. Let fruits, jelly, syrup or honey form part of each meal, and then children will not so often plead for candy and cake.

Torturing eczema spreads its burning area every day. Doan's Ointment quickly stops its spreading, instantly relieves the itching, cures it permanently. At any drug store.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under each. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in opening up the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a powerful purgative, invigorating the nerves and curing nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several branches of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Doctor Pierce's Invalid Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

Athens on the Day of the Olympic Games.

The city was alive with visitors. A hundred thousand strangers were within her gates. One may imagine what a commotion that created in the ancient city. At this time of the year, in the late spring, there were always great crowds of people from all the world over, but now the fame of the Olympic Games had perceptibly increased the usual number of tourists. People who otherwise might have stayed a few weeks longer in Turkey, Egypt, Italy, or the Holy Land, had hurried to Athens for the Olympic festival.

English and Americans were particularly prominent, the English men and women in overheavy loose-fitting clothes, and the Americans eager, rushing everywhere, with seemingly inexhaustible supplies of energy—likewise of money. They had but to see a thing—a trinket, a relic, a bit of sculpture, to demand at once the price and immediately to buy. Of course many things were not to be bought, and they would ask, "Why not? why not?" impatiently. Many of them seemed not to understand that even an unlimited purse is not always potent. They were wearing now in their lapels little flags of their country, and whenever a group of them assembled they were challenging one another to wagers on the chances of this or that competitor in the games.

Sixty thousand people crowded the seats and walks of the Stadium this day; another sixty thousand, it was estimated, crowded the hills which rose above the walls of the enclosure. First there were the trial heats of the short race, a little more than one-half the length of the Stadium. One after the other, in the trial heats, the Americans, as was expected, came in victorious, except in the case of one German and one Australian. None of the Greeks secured a place for the final heat, to be run next day, and this largely because they were not sufficiently trained in the little details that count for so much in a race that is barely of ten seconds' duration.

After the running came the triple leap, the ancient contest at which in the olden days the wonderful Phaylos excelled.—From "An Olympic Victor," by James B. Connolly, in the Fiction Number of Scribner's.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold—A. S. Nussbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Ed. D. Heckerman.

A LITTLE PROSE POEM

And at the Bottom of it, There's a Lot of Truth.

Kind friends, have you heard of the town of No-Good, on the banks of the river Slow, where the Some-time-or-other scents the air and the soft Go-easies grow? It lies in the valley of What's-the-use, in the province of Let-her-slide; it's the home of the reckless I-don't-care, where the Give-it-ups abide. The town is as old as the human race, and it grows with the flight of years; it is wrapped in the fog of the idler's dreams; its streets are paved with discarded schemes and are sprinkled with useless tears.—Hopkins (Kan.) Journal.

Free Scholarships

The Pratt Institute of Music and Art, for the purpose of stimulating an interest in music and encouraging the talent of Pittsburg and vicinity, as well as the State of Pennsylvania, offers four free scholarships, one in each department of the piano, voice, violin and cello. These scholarships, valued at $1,000 altogether, will include lessons in harmony and sight singing, in addition to the specialty of the student. Eight partial scholarships are also given to specially talented and deserving pupils.

The great value of these scholarships has already been attested by the graduation with high honors this spring at the Commencement Concert of Miss Ruth Bowers of Erie, who won the free scholarship in the Violin Department. She is the first to graduate as a Concert Artist; her performance created a sensation and she received an ovation. Another of Franz Kohlar's pupils, Miss Autumn Hall, is now appearing in concerts in Paris, London and Berlin, thus doing honor to her native state and the Steel City, and proving the fact, which is becoming more and more apparent, that it is not necessary to go to Europe to become an artist. The Piano Scholarship was won by Miss Gertrude Walrond of Pittsburg and her rapid progress and undoubted talent was rewarded at the conclusion of the year with a diploma as a teacher.

Competition is open to all. Applications must be sent in before September 1 and examinations will be given during the week of September 2. For further information, dates and details, address Silas G. Pratt, President, 414 Sixth Avenue, Pittsburg.

Bacteria in Milk

Many of us do not realize that much of the milk consumed in our large cities is taken from herds kept as far as 300 miles or more from the consumer, and when it is delivered to him is frequently forty-eight hours old. The problems surrounding the transportation of such milk in the summer season may be in part appreciated when we know that the presence of 5,000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter is considered a reasonably low count and that under favorable conditions this number is capable of doubling by geometrical progression every half hour. Samples of commercial milk taken in New York City recently showed 35,200,000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter; London, 31,388,000; Washington, 22,134,000. That seventy-eight typhoid germs in one cubic centimeter of milk increased in seven days to 440,000,000 furnishes an illustration of the possibilities in this direction, and when one realizes that one cubic centimeter is equivalent to about sixteen drops, some idea may be gained of the bacterial population of much of the milk we drink.

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of it in Bedford But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys cry for help. Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed.

Not one so important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble. It is the kidneys' cry for help. Heed it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what is wanted. Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

Read the proof from a Bedford citizen.

Mrs. R. E. Griffith, living on Spring St., Bedford, Pa., says: "Mr. Griffith complained of kidney trouble for some time and I think that the trouble was brought on by a slight strain. His back ached most of the time and he was gradually losing strength. He finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Irvine's drug store, used them according to directions, and they gave him prompt relief. He now speaks of Doan's Kidney Pills in the highest terms and recommends them at every opportunity."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. Aug 7-2t.

For Moist Hands

For moist hands bathe them three times a day and at night with a mixture of two ounces of cologne and a quarter of an ounce of tincture of belladonna. Before putting on gloves, and at other times when possible, powder with a mixture of a dram each of oxide of zinc and boric acid, two drams of lycopodium powder, half an ounce of starch and a quarter of an ounce of powdered orris. Sit many times to mix thoroughly.

She Likes Good Things

Mrs. Charles E. Smith of West Franklin, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers sold at all drug stores. 25c.

Public Opinion as an Evil

In discussing the Prohibition question in the August McClure's, Prof. Hugo Munsterberg says:

"It has been seldom indeed that the fundamental evil of the American public opinion has come out so clearly; namely, that no one dares to be on the unpopular side; just as in fashion and social life, every one wants to be 'in it.' No problem has in America a fair hearing as soon as one side has become the fashion of mind. Only the cranks come out with an unbalanced, exaggerated opposition, and thus really help the cause they want to fight against. The well-balanced thinkers keep quiet and simply look on while the movement rushes forward, waiting quietly for the reaction which sets in from the inner absurdity of every social extreme. The result is too often an hysterical zig-zag movement, where fearlessness might have found a middle way of steady progress. There must be indeed a possible middle way between the evil of the present saloon and the not lesser evil of a future national prohibition; yet, if this one-sidedness of discussion goes on, it is not difficult to foresee, after the legislative experiences of the last year, that the hysterical movement will not stop until prohibition is proclaimed from every state-house between the Atlantic and the Pacific."

HOW LONG TO SLEEP

There can be no hard and fast rules set for the length of time one should sleep. All depends on the person and temperament.

We are told that brain workers and those of a nervous nature need more sleep than others, yet some of the greatest thinkers in the world sleep but four or five hours a night with no ill effects.

A good rule to follow is to sleep until one awakes refreshed, whether that is in five hours or ten.

If possible, do not be called. This is particularly important for growing children. Some parents make a fetish of early hours for their children and think so much of getting them out of lazy habits that they do not consider their nervous systems.

Even when you must go to work at an early hour do not train yourself to depend on an alarm, which gives a shock to the nervous system. Go to bed with the fixed idea in your brain to awaken at a certain hour, and it rarely fails that your eyes pop open at that minute.

If it be well to sleep until refreshed it is not well to indulge in the habit of turning over for another nap. Get up as soon as you awake and you will not be sluggish and stupid for several hours of the morning.

Don't be one of those persons who says with an air "I never sleep in the daytime." If you have any regard for your looks and health you will take a short rest each day, even though you think you cannot possibly sleep. It won't be long before you are saying, "I believe I just dropped off," and will feel better and brighter for it the rest of the day and evening. Remember there is nothing like sleep to build up and restore nerve power.

Precious Stone Lore

In an interesting review on a book about precious stones a writer in the "Observer" tells us a good deal about jewels. The "stones have months, weeks and days. January, the garnet or garnet; February, the amethyst; March, the bloodstone; April, the sapphire or diamond; May, the emerald; June, the agate, etc." The "lucky day" stones are—Monday, the moonstone; Sunday, the ruby; Tuesday, pink jewelry must be worn, and on Wednesday, the emerald; Friday is amethyst day, for this stone is a lucky one, and the legend goes that the amethyst was once a beautiful nymph, beloved by Bacchus, who was changed into a gem. The ancients used to place amethysts in their drinking vessels as a preventive against intoxication, and the beautiful violet rays were supposed to be a source of vitality to wearers of the amethyst.

Attention, Asthma Sufferers!

Foley's Honey and Tar will give immediate relief to asthma sufferers and has cured many cases that had refused to yield to other treatment. Foley's Honey and Tar is the best remedy for coughs, colds and all throat and lung trouble. Contains no harmful drugs. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Coats for Children

Washable coats of China silk, lined with cashmere, are shown for children. They are, of course, in white only. Pretty turned-back cuffs and collar of Irish lace add the finishing touch to these smart little garments. These coats are very warm and, at the same time, they do not detract from the daintiness of a little lingerie frock.

Doan's Regulents cure constipation, tone the stomach, stimulate the liver, promote digestion and appetite and easy passages of the bowels. Ask your druggist for them. 25 cents a box.

Gazette's want ads bring results

YOU ARE GOING TO BUY

Stockers and Feeding Cattle

THIS SEASON

You want to buy where you can get the best cattle for the least money. Write or wire at once to

JOHN J. LAWLER

163 EXCHANGE BUILDING

UNION STOCK YARDS, CHICAGO

Sound, safe, conservative, strict honesty and a square deal guaranteed.

ESTABLISHED OVER 25 YEARS

REFERENCES: Live Stock Exchange National Bank, Chicago
Any Mercantile Agency
Thousands of our satisfied customers

We handle more stockers and feeders than any firm in the world. A big selection at all times. Sales, 40 to 50 loads daily.

Come to Chicago and we will sell direct to you, or order at once by mail or telegram and we will ship just what you want direct to you at lowest market prices. Write at once for our plan of filling orders. We can save you money. Write us for quotations of prices before you buy.

WHAT THE NAME FOOTER'S MEANS TO YOU

It means—

PERFECTION IN THE ART OF CLEANING AND DYEING.

That work done by Footer's gets the benefit of the highest skill—in the Greatest—Best Equipped—Most Sanitary and Complete Cleaning and Dyeing Works in all America.

Think of it—

Back of every FOOTER product is an immense national business,

MEN'S CLOTHING

LACES
GLOVES FEATHERS
CARPETS
RUGS
BLANKETS CURTAINS
BLINDS PORTIERS
FURS, ETC., ETC.

established by meritorious work, and depending for success upon quality. No skill or appliance too costly—no care too great to improve our methods, or add to a customer's satisfaction. We give you a result that you cannot get elsewhere.

Our handsome illustrated booklet is free. Write us for information or send us your work through our local agent, and let us show you JUST HOW WELL IT CAN BE DONE.

FOOTER'S DYE WORKS, CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND.

J. S. CORLE,

Authorized Agent,

Bedford, Pa.

F. H. Brightbill,

Surviving Partner of

J. Brightbill & Son,

Manufacturer of All Kinds Buggies, Carriages and Spring Wagons. Buggies from $50 up.

Blacksmithing, Wood Work, Painting and Trimming promptly and satisfactorily done.

Rubber Tires put on all kinds of vehicles.

F. H. BRIGHTBILL

Bedford, Pa.

WHITE CANVAS OXFORDS 1/2 PRICE

FOR MEN AND WOMEN AND BOYS AND GIRLS

Just Right for Hot Days,
Ideal for Outings, Stylish With White Suits.

C. G. SMITH

TENDER FEET SHOES

Baltimore and George Streets, CUMBERLAND, MD.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE GAZETTE

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson VI.—Third Quarter, For Aug. 9, 1908.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, I Sam. xvii, 33-49. Memory Verses, 43, 49—Golden Text, Ps. xi, 1—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1905, by American Press Association.]

We saw in last week's lesson that after David had been anointed in the midst of his brethren with oil by Samuel and with the Holy Spirit by God he returned to his flock. Saul, being troubled by an evil spirit by God's permission, for if the truth is rejected God allows delusion to take us (II Thess. ii, 10, 11), was recommended by his servants to employ one who could play skillfully on the harp to quiet and soothe him. David, the son of Jesse, was mentioned as a suitable man. He was sent for and came, and Saul loved him greatly, and he became his armor bearer, and God gave him success in driving away the evil spirit (xvi, 14-23). After this David returned again to feed his father's sheep at Bethlehem (xvii, 15), and doubtless he cared for the sheep just as cheerfully as he waited on Saul, perhaps more so, for there would not be as much of God in the atmosphere of Saul's home as out in the fields with the sheep, but this spirit of being just as willing to keep sheep as to serve a king, or vice versa, is the great thing. "For any manner of service wholly at Thy commandment" (I Chron. xlviii, 21). While David is thus employed in the quiet home life, being fitted by communion with God for greater things, like Moses at Midian, or Paul in Arabia, or John the Baptist in the wilderness, or Jesus at Nazareth, the Philistines gather their armies against Israel, and the two armies are face to face in battle array with a valley between them. Day by day their champion comes forth in his strength, crying: "I defy the armies of Israel this day. Give me a man that we may fight together." And so it continued morning and evening for forty days (verses 10, 16).

Although Saul was head and shoulders taller than an ordinary man, Goliath towered away above him, and, as it was man against man and God was left out, both Saul and all Israel were dismayed and greatly afraid, and when the men of Israel saw the man they fled from him (verses 11, 24). The three eldest of David's brethren were in Saul's army, and while this state of things continued Jesse one day sent David to carry some home food to his brethren and to see how they fared. As he talked with his brethren and asked them of their welfare Goliath came forth and in his customary style defied the armies of Israel, and David heard him and saw Israel flee before him. All his soul is stirred as he hears this blasphemer defy the armies of the living God, and as he sees the reproach resting on Israel because of him he asks, "What shall be done to the man that killeth this Philistine and taketh away the reproach from Israel?" His eldest brother heard him and was angry with him and accused him of pride and haughtiness of heart and of leaving his sheep to come down to see the battle.

It is more gratifying to the flesh to talk back, but a soft answer is God's way. Saul is told of David and his words, and so he sent for him. To Saul's great amazement, David offers to go out and fight Goliath and tells how God enabled him to kill both a lion and a bear as he kept his father's sheep, and he was sure that the same Lord would give him victory over this Philistine. In a very flippant way, as I understand it, Saul said, "Go, and the Lord be with thee" (verse 37). It sounds somewhat like some of the "God bless you's" that we hear. Words from the heart carry a blessing, but mere lip words are idle. What a sight David must have been with Saul's armor on, but he was soon rid of it, for, as he said, he had not proved it. We can only use in the service of our Lord and in our conflict with the devil that which we have proved in our own personal experience, and the proving in private is often a qualification for a more public experience. With his staff and his sling and five smooth stones in his scrip, he went forth to meet the great Goliath, the adversary, but conscious that he was God's man and seeking only the honor of Jehovah he could say, as he did say, "I come in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied." "That all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel and all this assembly." "I know that the Lord saveth not with sword and spear, for the battle is the Lord's" (verses 45-47).

What zeal for God! What splendid confidence in Him! What fragrantness of self and of people! Gazed upon in wonder by the many thousands of Israel and with scorn and derision by the giant and the vast multitude who relied upon him as their champion, he went forth calmly and fearlessly, with no thought but that God might be glorified. Goliath cursed him and said that he would give his flesh to the birds and to the beasts, but David hastened and ran to meet him, and, taking a stone from his bag, he slung it with unerring aim in the name and in the power of Jehovah, and it sank into the giant's forehead, and he fell upon his face to the earth. Then he ran again, and, taking the giant's sword out of its sheath, he stood upon him and cut off his head and brought it to Jerusalem and put his armor in his tent (verses 50-54).

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION

(Continued From Last Week.)

Amendment Five—To Article Eight, Section Two. Section 2. Amend section two of article eight, which reads as follows:— "The general election shall be held annually on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November, by the General Assembly may by law fix a different day two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto," so as to read:— "The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each even-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an even-numbered year.

Amendment Six—To Article Eight, Section Three. Section 3. Amend section three of article eight, which reads as follows:— "All elections for city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the third Tuesday of February," so as to read:— "All judges elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough, and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each even-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an odd-numbered year.

Amendment Seven—To Article Eight, Section Fourteen. Section 14. Amend section fourteen of article eight, which reads as follows:— "District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen annually by the citizens. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service," so as to read:— "District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially, by the citizens at the municipal election; but the General Assembly may require said boards to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only. Provided, That such laws be uniform for cities of the same class. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service."

Section 3. Amend section one, article twelve, which reads as follows:— "All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law," so as to read:— "All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law: Provided, That elections of State officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day, except when, in either case, special elections may be required to fill unexpired terms.

Amendment Nine—To Article Fourteen, Section One. Section 1. Amend section one, article fourteen, which reads as follows:— "County officers shall be elected at the general elections and shall hold their offices for the term of three years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law," so as to read:— "County officers shall be elected at the municipal elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified, all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law.

Amendment Ten—To Article Fourteen, Section Seven. Section 7. Amend section seven, article fourteen, which reads as follows:— "Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventy-five and every third year thereafter, and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled, by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy occurs, by the appointment of one of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled," so as to read:— "Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and every fourth year thereafter, and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy occurs, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled."

Section 11. Amend section seven, article fourteen, which reads as follows:— "Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and every fourth year thereafter, and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy occurs, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled."

Why James Lee Got Well

Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs. Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes: "My husband, James Lee, firmly believes he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable, when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it, and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr. King's New Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose gives relief. Try it! Sold under guarantee at all drug stores. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Schedule for the Amendments.

Section 12. That no inconvenience arise from the changes in the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared that:—

In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years, shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.

The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers whose terms of office, under existing law, end on the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years or made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and thereafter in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of December of that year.

All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, shall hold office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

A true copy of Joint Resolution No. 3.

ROBERT McAFEE,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson

The Cold Bath

The cold bath, be it sponge, spray or plunge, is a delight to whom it agrees. It is heroic treatment, and should not be tried save with caution or by the advice of a physician. If you promptly rebound from the shock and are left warm, "all-of-a-glow," and full of strength and energy, then the bath has proved beneficial; if you feel "shivery," weak and depressed, beware—the cold bath is not for you.

The cold morning bath is recommended for those who can stand the cold bath, though countless many cannot. To prepare for it one should first sponge the body with cold water and step into a few inches of drawn water from the warm water pipe. It will not be warm or cold early in the morning. Splash the water over the body and wash hastily, letting the tub fill gradually. If the salt bath is used, do not throw the salt towel in the laundry. Let it collect the salt. In beauty bath houses each individual has a salt towel that is used countless times, because it gets thoroughly saturated and is more beneficial. A cold bath should not last longer than five minutes.

For Sore Feet. "I have found Bucklen's Arnica Salve to be the proper thing to use for sore feet, as well as for healing burns, sores, cuts, and all manner of abrasions," writes Mr. W. Stone of East Poland, Maine. It is the proper thing too for piles. Try it! Sold under guarantee at all drug stores. 25c.

Do You Sit Correctly?

It is while sitting that women most hurt their figures. They do not place themselves so that they sit on the tip of the spine. Let any woman who is reading this sentence now drop her paper and notice if she is sitting on the tip of her spine or four or five inches above it, causing a curve in the vertebrae. It is easy enough to know, because if the end of the spine has been made to do its work she cannot straighten herself any more in the seat, although she may be able to throw back her body more, but if the line of her backbone is as it should be she cannot pull herself up higher on the chair. This is because the weight is already placed at its proper angle.

On the contrary, the instant the spine is allowed to curve toward the lower end and the whole figure is thrown out of plumb. The abdomen is made to protrude and the hips are thrust up.

Friendship

A slender acquaintance with the world must convince every man that actions, not words, are the true criterion of the attachment of friends; and that the most liberal professions of good will are very far from being the surest marks of it.—George Washington.

Woman loves a clear, rosy complexion. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood, clears the skin, restores ruddy, sound health.

Secret of Long Life

We occasionally meet a woman whose old age is as beautiful as the bloom of youth. We wonder how it has come about—what her secret is. Here are a few of the reasons:

She knew how to forget disagreeable things.

She kept her nerves well in hand and inflicted them on no one.

She mastered the art of saying pleasant things.

She did not expect too much from her friends.

She made whatever work came to her congenial.

She retained her illusions, and did not believe all the world wicked and unkind.

She relieved the miserable and sympathized with the sorrowful.

She never forgot that kind words and a smile cost nothing, but are priceless treasures to the discouraged.

She did unto others as she would be done by, and now that old age has come to her and there is a halo of white hair about her head she is loved and considered. That is the secret of a long life and a happy one.—Indianapolis News.

Stains

Those made with sugar, syrup and meat juice may be removed with water. Those made with fruit and vegetables, if treated at once, may be removed with boiling water. If the article is washed and boiled the soap will set the stain, and it then can be removed only by soaking in javelle or chloride of lime water, or by holding the wet stains over the fumes of burning sulphur. Stains made with tea and coffee are treated with such agents as well remove tannin. Hot water will set the stains made by meat juice. Soap is a mordant for tannin and some other coloring matters, therefore stains made by anything containing tannin, such as tea or coffee, or made by fruit or green vegetables should be removed before the article so stained is put in the laundry. When it is necessary to use chemicals in removing stains the article must afterward be washed in many clear waters to remove every trace of the chemical.

A Boon to Elderly People

Most elderly people have some kidney or bladder disorder that is both painful and dangerous. Foley's Kidney Remedy has proven a boon to many elderly people as it stimulates the urinary organs, corrects irregularities and tones up the whole system. Commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy at once and be vigorous. Ed. D. Heckerman.

A Good-Wish Rose

A clever idea was carried out at a recent "shower" for a bride-to-be. In the invitation each guest was requested to send in, prior to the party, a wish for the bride. The hostess made a beautiful large white paper rose, and before putting it together she wrote on each petal a wish and the name of the wisher. As is usual in most cases, some of the guests forgot to send in a wish, but brought one with them, and others wrote them after they arrived. For this purpose a large paper rosebud had been made, into which the wishes were slipped, and the bud twisted up again. The guest of honor was charmed with the rose and rosebud, and said that she should always keep it as a pleasant reminder of her friends whom she was soon to leave for a new home in a distant city.—Woman's Home Companion.

The Best Tonics

Every one must have tonics occasionally; there are times when nothing will pick us up but medicine. In such cases go to a doctor without delay.

In ordinary circumstances, the best tonics are to be found in sunshine, pure air, regular exercise, a healthful diet, and above all, plenty of sleep.

These are medicine's great rivals in building up nerve power; without them it is helpless to do more than stimulate for the time. They are remedies which cause no reaction and build up by stealing into the system to restore its strength and tone. The pity is that most of us would much prefer to take the doctor's medicine than to depend for our well-being on the regularity of self, that air, exercise, diet and early hours demand.

Selection of a Soap

The selection of a soap is a thing which must be determined absolutely by the quality of one's skin and one's physical idiosyncrasies. To recommend castile soap, for instance, as being universally beneficial, is as much a mistake as to recommend one drug for all diseases. As a matter of fact, there are many skins which are irritated by castile soap, and throughout all the range of soaps it is impossible to get one which will suit all varieties of skins. In order to learn which one best agrees with one's own skin a great deal of experimenting must be done, and when one has once found the soap which agrees perfectly with the complexion no other should be used.

KINGSFORD'S OSWEGO CORN STARCH

Sixty-six Years of Superiority.

Just the thing to go with all kinds of fresh or stewed fruit, either as a delicate sauce to pour over the fruit or as a blanc mange or pudding to serve with it. Before another meal drop postal for and learn what a practical cooking aid Kingsford's Oswego Corn Starch really is. Its many uses will surprise you.

"Original Recipes and Cooking Helps"

For making custards, blanc manges, ices, puddings—all dishes that depend for goodness upon corn starch quality—Kingsford's has been chosen by best cooks for three generations.

Grocers—pound packages—10c

T. KINGSFORD & SON, Oswego, N. Y. National Starch Co., Successors

We Introduce "Alco System Clothes."

For young men 14 to 50 years of age.

The reference to young men 14 to 50 years is not used as a joke or a "catch phrase." A man is as young as he feels and our town has in it dozens of young fellows who have been celebrating birthdays for more than forty years. To these young men, and the young men under 40—under 30—and down to 14 years of age we want to show our new line of "ALCO" clothes.

The styles the thing and the wearing qualities are guaranteed by the makers and by us, so if you select a suit or an overcoat, or both, you can rest assured you have the "best ever" at the price.

Suits $10 to $20

Straub's Store, Bedford, Pa.

The United States Mint

furnishes gold of the highest standard. * * * This gold only is used in our stock of Watches—Elgins, Walthams, Howards, Hampdens—all the Standard American and Foreign makes.

Choosing is easy—Gold, Gold Filled and Silver; Plain, Engraved and Jeweled effects. We tell you what the movement can be depended upon to do, and all about the case.

When you buy a watch buy a reliable one—even if it does cost a little more. And at that, the prices on ours are by no means high. From $7.00 up.

Jeweler and Optician

J. W. RIDENOUR,

BEDFORD, PA.

C. AVOLIO, 114 East Pitt Street, BEDFORD, PA.

Headquarters for First-Class Shoe Repairing and New Work. Shop open from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. Repairing done while you wait. Special accommodations for country people.

LOW PRICES AND NEAT WORK.

Pennsylvania Railroad

SIXTEEN-DAY EXCURSIONS

$7.25 or $9.25 to Atlantic City, Cape May

Anglesea, Wildwood, Holly Beach, Ocean City, Sea Isle City, Avalon, N. J., Rehoboth, Del., and Ocean City, Md.

$9.25 or $11.25 to Asbury Park, Long Branch

West End, Ellerton, Deal Beach, Allentown, North Asbury Park, Ocean Grove, Bradley Beach, Ayon, Belmar, Como Spring Lake, Sea Girt, Manasquan, Brielle, Point Pleasant, and Bay Head, N. J.

Tickets at the lower rate good only in Coaches. Tickets at the higher rate good in parlor or sleeping cars in connection with proper Pullman tickets.

AUGUST 20, 1908

Train leaves Bedford 9.20 A. M., connecting with running through to Atlantic City and stopping at Philadelphia, to discharge passengers. Tickets good for passage on Special Train or on trains leaving Philadelphia at 4.55 p. m. and 8.30 p. m., and their connections going, and all regular trains returning within sixteen days.

Special Train of Parlor Cars and Coaches

Stops will be made for meals or dining car service will be provided. For stop-over privileges and full information consult nearest Ticket Agent.

J. R. WOOD Passenger Traffic Manager

GEO. W. BOYD General Passenger Agent

W. H. SEARS, M. D., Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

HUNTINGDON, PA.

AT BEDFORD, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1908.

Can be seen at Huntingdon on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

A. C. WOLF, M. D., PHYSICIAN and SURGEON

ROOMS IN RIDENOUR BLOCK, BEDFORD, PA.

OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 12 a. m. 1 to 5 p. m. Daily Except Sunday. Special attention given to the treatment of Chronic Cases between the hours of 1 and 5 p. m., daily except Sunday.

Bedford Gazette

ESTABLISHED IN 1805

S. A. VAN ORMER,
Editor and Publisher.

The Bedford Gazette is a model among country newspapers.—New York World.
The Gazette is the leading newspaper of Bedford county and its circulation is far ahead of any of its contemporaries. As an advertising medium it is one of the best in this part of the state.

Regular subscription price per year $2.00. If paid in advance $1.50. Cards of Thanks, 50c; Resolutions, 5c.

All communications should be addressed to Gazette Publishing Co.,

Bedford, Pa.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUG. 7, 1908.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL TICKET

For President WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN of Nebraska
For Vice President JOHN WORTH KERN
of Indiana

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET

For Judge of the Superior Court
HON. WEBSTER GRIMM of Bucks County

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET

For Member of Congress
HUMPHREY D. TATE
Representative in General Assembly
JOHN L. BORTZ
For Associate Judge
JOHN T. MATT
For Sheriff
J. FLOYD CESSNA
For Prothonotary
JO. W. TATE
For Register and Recorder
FRANCIS M. AMOS
For County Treasurer
CHARLES H. DORN
For District Attorney
ROBERT C. McNAMARA
For County Commissioners
C. W. BLACKBURN
WILLIAM F. EASTER
For Director of Poor
ANDREW J. STECKMAN
For County Auditors
DAVID A. ALDSTADT
E. A. HERSHBERGER
For Coroner
DR. H. B. PENNYL

FREE RAW MATERIALS

The following from a recent issue of the Philadelphia Record conclusively shows that our manufacturers are able, even under present conditions, to compete with foreign producers:

Our manufacturers of boots and shoes pay higher wages than foreign manufacturers do, and the cost of leather is enhanced by the tax on hides. Yet they are exporting almost a million dollars' worth a month and selling them where wages are lower and materials are free of tax. The Free Union of German Shoemakers is alarmed at the imports of American shoes, and is resorting to new schemes opposing the invasion of German markets. The German Shoe Manufacturers' Association would not allow American goods to be exhibited at the annual exposition in Berlin. The shoe manufacturers here have offered to waive all their protection if they could have free raw materials, and many other industries would be glad to make the same exchange. The protective system oppresses the manufacturers by the taxes it puts on materials.

This shows how the boasted "protective system" cuts both ways; it not only oppresses the manufacturers who have to depend upon foreign raw materials, but it materially effects the farmer, the laborer, the mechanic and all other American consumers by raising the price of the necessities of life.

FAVORING GANG PAPERS

Although The Gazette was not favored with an order from the Secretary of the Commonwealth to publish the proposed amendments to the state constitution, we have done so on our own account, for the benefit of our readers; the first part appeared last week and the second is contained in this issue. If we have been presumptuous we are ready to make due apology to the great Commonwealth.

Section one of article xviii of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that proposed amendments shall be published "three months before the next general election, in at least two newspapers in each county in which such newspapers shall be published."

In making up his list of papers in which to publish the proposed amendments the Secretary of the Commonwealth has seen fit to insert them in the minimum number in this county, and for this purpose he has selected the two papers that have always stood by the Penrose machine, eliminating the paper of the opposite party and also the independent paper of the county, and disregarding circulation.

But the information cannot in this way be kept from the Democrats and the Independent Republicans of the county. The Gazette, wide awake, secured the copy from another source and made use of it.

It is a common custom in the publication of anything of interest to all parties and classes to select one paper representing the party not in power, and the circulation is also considered by officials who care to have the publication reach all people.

While The Gazette should have received an order to insert the proposed amendments because it leads the other papers of the county in circulation and because it represents the party not in power, no such order was received.

These amendments occupy more than five columns in our Bedford contemporary and are to run for thirteen consecutive weeks, which will mean a sum to them that will balance the extra cost of materials that has been brought about by the paper trust which exists because of the tariff.

In all fairness, it can only be looked upon as a reward to the gang organs for their efforts for the gang. There evidently was no desire to lay the matter fairly and impartially before the people of the Commonwealth. Does the state exist for Republicans alone, and are they only to be informed of proposed changes to the supreme law of the Commonwealth? Are the thousands of Democrats to be arbitrarily eliminated from all consideration?

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, Lucas County, ss.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

FRANK J. CHENEY,
Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

A. W. GLEASON,
(Seal)
Notary Public.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Deeds Recorded

Bedford Springs Company to Bedford Township School District, lot in Bedford Township; nominal.
Thomas Leonard to Laura M. Leonard, lot in Mann's Choice; $1,250.
William McKinley to Belle Seichter, lot in Bedford; $700.

Wolfsburg M. E. Circuit

Services next Sunday: Mt. Smith—Sunday school 9 a. m.; preaching 10 a. m. Burning Bush—Sunday school 9:30 a. m.; preaching 7:30 p. m.
E. C. Keboch, Pastor.

Dunning's Creek Reformed Charge
St. Luke's—Sunday school 9 a. m.; Harvest Home service 10 a. m. St. Paul's—Sunday school 1 p. m.; Harvest Home service 2 p. m.
B. F. Bausman, Pastor.

St. Clairsville Reformed Charge
St. Clairsville—Sunday school 9 a. m.; preaching 10 a. m. Pleasantville—Preaching 2:30 p. m.
J. W. Zehring, Pastor.

Friend's Cove Reformed Charge
Services August 9 as follows: At Trinity—Sunday school 9 a. m.; preaching 10:30, subject of sermon, "Precepts for the Guidance of Christian Life." At Rainsburg—Sunday school 9 a. m.; preaching 7:30 p. m. Brick Church—Sunday school 9 a. m. Chas. E. Rupp, Pastor.

Rainsburg Lutheran Charge
Preaching Sunday, August 9: Yeager Memorial, Rainsburg, at 10 a. m.; Old Brick church 2 p. m.
E. H. Jones, Pastor.

Lutheran Church Services
Sunday, August 9: St. James in Pleasant Valley, 10 a. m., Holy Communion; Saturday at 2 p. m., preparatory service.
J. W. Lingle, Pastor.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Lock Haven State Normal School has large dormitories, its rooms will all be taken for the Fall term beginning September 7. This is an indication of the esteem in which this splendid school is held by the young people of this state. It has a first-class equipment, a fine faculty, and an ideal location. Expenses are moderate. Address the Principal for illustrated catalogue.

Advertise in
THE GAZETTE
For Good Results.

U. S. SENATOR ALLISON DEAD

SENATOR W. B. ALLISON

Senator W. B. Allison of Iowa, died at his home at Dubuque on Tuesday, August 4; he was the oldest Senator in service, having entered the Senate on March 4, 1873. Death came at the close of a sinking spell, heart failure being the immediate cause.

Senator Allison was born at Perry, O., March 2, 1829, the son of John and Mary Allison. His boyhood days he spent on the farm, which was his birthplace. Reaching young manhood, he obtained his education in Allegheny College, Pennsylvania, and the Western Reserve College of Ohio. Senator Allison was admitted to the bar in 1850. He was married to Miss Anna Carter of Wooster, O., at Ashland, O., in February, 1854. From 1850 until 1857 he practiced law in Ohio. In 1857 he removed to Dubuque, where he took up the practice of law.

He was a delegate to the Republican State Convention in 1859, and to the National Republican Convention in Chicago in 1860. He was a member of the Governor's staff during the Civil War, and raised troops to fight for the Union in 1861. In 1863 he was elected to Congress, and served continuously until 1871. In 1873 he was elected United States Senator from Iowa, and represented his state in this capacity until the time of his death.

In 1881 he was offered the position of Secretary of the Treasury of the United States by President Garfield, but declined to accept the office. In 1889 he again refused this office when offered him by President Harrison. For the third time he refused the office when it was offered him by President McKinley in 1897.

He was a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination before the National Republican Convention in 1888 and again in 1896.

He was a contemporary of and a collaborator with every one of the great men whose services now are recognized as of inestimable value to the nation—Lincoln, Stanton, Chase, Sumner, Blaine, Edmunds, Sherman, Garfield, Logan, Trumbull, Morton and others.

Benjamin W. Slick

Benjamin W. Slick was born in Sloan's Hollow, near Cessna, on December 20, 1835, and died suddenly in Taylor Township, Blair County, on Thursday, July 30. In 1877 he moved to a farm near Roaring Spring where he was well and favorably known. He was a member of the St. Clairsville Lutheran church for 46 years.

August 22, 1858, he married Miss Delilah Hite who, with the following children, survives: Harlan, Mrs. H. C. Dick, and Mrs. J. W. Bogart, of Roaring Spring; D. H. of Altoona, and Frank and Sarah, at home; he also leaves one brother, John E. of Washington, D. C., and one sister, Mrs. Hannah Luken, of Schellsburg. Invitations were printed and ready to be mailed announcing the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Slick on August 22. Such is life. We know not what a day may bring forth.

The funeral was held at 10 a. m. Saturday in the Lutheran church at Roaring Spring, the services being conducted by Rev. Dr. C. E. Keller. Interment in Greenlawn cemetery.

Mrs. B. C. Bowers

Mrs. Anna L., wife of B. C. Bowers, died at the home of her father, E. K. Suder, near Berlin, Monday evening, August 3, at 8 o'clock. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon, interment being made in Odd Fellows cemetery at Berlin. She was born on April 12, 1835, and was united in marriage with B. C. Bowers of this place on April 26, 1905. To this union three children were born. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Marguerite, and an infant son.

Mr. Bowers is a son of Mrs. Julia A. Bowers of this place who, with A. D. Bowers and wife, attended the funeral.

Alexander Corl

Alexander Corl, a native of this county, and for several years a resident of Blair County, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Calvin Refner, at Juniata Friday, July 31, of heart trouble and dropsy. He had been in failing health for some time. Deceased was born near Pavia on July 20, 1838. He is survived by the following children: J. W., Mrs. Patrick Russell, Mrs. Edward College and Mrs. Daniel Humm, of Altoona; Mrs. Calvin Refner of Juniata, Miss Mary Ellen of Juniata, and one daughter and two sons in Pittsburg.

Mrs. Clarence Barton

Mrs. Clarence Barton of near Everett died on Thursday, July 30, aged 20 years, three months and 12 days. She is survived by her husband and several brothers and sisters. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. John R. Van Pelt and interment was made near Akersville.

Jessie L. Crawley

Jessie Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Crawley, died on August 4. She was born May 7, 1905, in Bedford and is survived by her parents, one sister Susie, and two brothers, Ross and Charles, all at home. She was a member of the "Buds of Promise" of the A. M. E. Zion church. The body was laid to rest on Sunday, August 2.

Mrs. Henry Minnich

Mrs. Henry Minnich of Everett died on Friday, July 31, aged 46 years, five months and 17 days. She is survived by her husband and several children. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Charles Rinehart on Sunday. Interment in the Everett cemetery.

Rev. David Snyder

Rev. David Snyder, pastor of the United Brethren church of New Enterprise, died at his home in Morrison's Cove on August 3. Obituary next week.

The Words That Won.

In London one of the weekly papers offered a prize for the best list of strong words to number ten. The announcement specified that but ten words would be considered from any one person and a committee of literary men would select from the numbers offered the ten strongest words in the English language.

These are the words that won: Hate, blood, hungry, dawn, coming, gone, love, dead, alone, forever.

Do you think of any stronger, fuller of suggestion?—Exchange.

Not Herself.

Farmer (to medical man)—If you get out my way any time, doctor, I wish you'd stop and see my wife. I think she ain't feelin' well. Doctor—What makes you think so? Farmer—Well, this mornin', after she had milked the cows, an' fed the pigs, an' got breakfast for the men, an' washed the dishes, an' built a fire under the cooper in the wash 'ouse, an' done a few odd jobs about the house, she complained o' feelin' tired-like. I fancy she needs a dose o' medicine.—London Scraps.

Charity.

Clara—At Jennie's wedding last week, owing to a misunderstanding, she had to wait at the church thirty minutes for the bridegroom. Maud—Oh, well, thirty minutes isn't anything to a woman who has waited thirty years.

Anxious.

Professor Stone—To the geologist a thousand years or so are not counted as any time at all. Man in the Audience—Great Scott! And to think I made a temporary loan of £2 to a man who holds such views!—London Telegraph.

Progress Reported.

"Did you have any luck fishing?" "Yes." "How many did you catch?" "I didn't catch any. But I thought up some mighty good stories to tell the folks at home."—Washington Star.

Poker and Bridge.

Knicker—I was sitting up with a very sick friend last night, I tell you. Mrs. Knicker—Yes, I sat up with his sick wife all this afternoon.—Harper's Bazar.

Never put off till tomorrow the advertising you should do today.

August Bargains You Must Not Overlook

Just stop and consider how much you would save by buying an extra suit, at half its regular price. Summer Suits that will keep you cool the rest of the hot spell and yet heavy enough to wear the year round. Look over this Bargain list and you'll find Shoes and other goods marked low, to move quick. So read on.

Young Men's Dress Suits, price $7.50, now	$2.50
Boys' Dress Suits, price $3 to $4, now	$1.50
Men's all Wool $15 Serge Suits	$7.90
Young Men's $12.50 and $15 Suits, now	$7.50
Men's Dress Trousers, price $3, now	$1.40
Men's Dress Straw Hats $1 kind, 25c; $1.50 kind now	.50
Men's $4 Walk-Over Oxfords, now	$2.95
Men's $2.50 Oxfords, all sizes, now	$1.25
Girls' $1.50 Oxfords, sizes up to 2, now	.95
Women's $2 oxfords, all leathers	$1.20
Women's $1.50 White Oxfords, all sizes, now	.75
Children's $1 Oxfords, sizes to 12, now	.50
Suit Cases, regular $2 kind, now	$1.25
Suit Cases, regular $1.50 kind, now	.98

And hundreds of other Bargains for you here if you come in time.

METROPOLITAN CLOTHING AND SHOE HOUSE, BEDFORD, PA.

A. HOFFMAN, - - - Proprietor

CORSETS

We are well stocked on the following styles of Corsets, all sizes:

"La Reine"	$2.00
"F. P." (Military)	$2 and $1.50
Long Hip, $1; Girdle	$1.00
No-Brake Side Steel	$1.00
"La Frances"	$1.75, $1.50, $1.00
"Cresco"	$1.75, $1.25, $1.00
"College Girl," (J. C. C.)	$1.00
Various styles of 50c Corsets and Girdles.

MRS. ELLA GILCHRIST

SPECIAL OFFERS

CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Gazette will be mailed to new subscribers from now until November 13 upon receipt of 25 cents.

"BEDFORD IN YE OLDEN TIME"

Upon receipt of One Dollar and Fifty Cents we will send The Gazette to new subscribers for one year, also a copy of Bedford in Ye Olden Time, a 77-page book, paper bound, containing two lectures on the historical incidents of the county, by the late Dr. Charles N. Hickok.

SOUVENIR ALBUMS

For Three Dollars we will send The Gazette to new subscribers for Two Years and furnish a copy of Bedford's Old Home Week Souvenir Album. This book is printed on glazed half-tone paper, is 9 1/2 by 12 inches in size and contains 119 cuts, historical and modern; also the officers and committees of the organization, the full programs of the week, the address of welcome by the late Burgess John R. Jordan, Col. John H. Filler's oration, Hon. B. F. Meyers' poem, The Welcome Home, and many other features.

GAZETTE AND PITTSBURG POST

To Old or New subscribers we will furnish the Pittsburg Post (regular price $5.00) and The Gazette for one year for $5.00. Shorter periods in proportion.

FREE SCHOLARSHIP

We will furnish a $50 Scholarship in the Tri-State Business College, Cumberland, Md., to the person sending us the most new subscribers between this date and December 1, 1908. We will pay a liberal commission to unsuccessful contestants. Contestants should notify us of their desire to enter upon the work so that we may not fail to give due credit. Advantage may be taken of any of these "Special Offers."

CORRESPONDENCE

Mann's Choice

August 5—Howard Scritchfield, wife and two children were visiting Mrs. Scritchfield's brother, Harvey Ruby, in Milliken's Cove from Saturday till Sunday evening.

Six hundred tons of bark are being shipped from the Everett tannery to the tannery at this place.

Mrs. R. A. Miller is visiting her husband, who is employed at Altoona, for a week or two.

Mr. Hillegass and wife, of Buffalo Mills, were seen in our town on Sunday.

James Naugle, who is employed at the tannery, visited his wife and baby at Schellsburg over Sunday.

William Leonard of State Line spent a fortnight under the parental roof at this place recently.

S. J. Herline has purchased a new threshing machine and is doing some threshing for the farmers. He uses a six-horse power gasoline engine, which does good work and saves labor.

The Mann's Choice baseball team played a double header on last Saturday. They defeated Cessna, score 9-4, and lost to New Paris at New Paris, score 9-6. They are getting practiced up and soon will be able to stand the Bedford team.

H. F. W. Miller has put new steps in front of the Metropolitan Hotel for J. P. Lehman.

Asa Sams, a B. & O. operator at McKeesport, is home on a vacation.

A new ice cream parlor has been opened up in the front room of Mrs. Carrie Dallard's millinery store.

Mrs. John Struckman and son have returned home after an extended visit with friends and relatives at Meyersdale and Hyndman.

Mrs. Jacob Sides is visiting friends and relatives in Canton, O., for a week or two.

Samuel Fisher, who has been housed for a few weeks with typhoid fever, is able to sit on the porch at present.

S. L. Fisher, wife and two children were visiting relatives at Fossilville Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. J. W. Leonard is spending a week or ten days with her mother at Mexico, Juniata County.

George Kelly has taken the belt from Ed. Fisher.

S. E. Leonard, superintendent of the Hyndman tannery, was in town on Monday.

The Reformed council has granted their pastor, Rev. C. W. Warlick, a vacation of a couple of weeks and he will leave on Friday for his home in North Carolina, his wife and children having gone there a few weeks ago.

Robert Whetstone, who was married in Cumberland to Effie Scritchfield about six weeks ago, has gone to housekeeping in the house owned by John Croft. Here's luck to you, Bob.

New Paris

August 4—Charles C. Brightbill of Bedford and sister, Miss Edith of Philadelphia, were guests of W. S. Holderbaum and family on Sunday. A. G. Carpenter and daughter Miss Belle, of near Belden, were welcome visitors in our vicinity on Saturday and Sunday.

Prof. L. B. Furry and wife, of Johnstown, are spending a week in our village among friends and relatives. They were accompanied by Miss Nettie Long who had been visiting the Furrys.

F. W. Cuppitt and family have moved from Johnstown to their residence north of town.

Irvin F. Eowzer and wife, of Connelville, are visiting old home friends at present.

Miss Ora May Williams of Johnstown is here with her friend, Miss Viola Long, also of Johnstown, who is spending the summer with relatives.

Mrs. J. A. Suter and daughter Evelyn, of Braddock, are visitors in our community.

George Mickel and wife and Samuel Mickel, of Windber, were callers in our vicinity on Saturday.

William H. Hillegass and daughters, Misses Henrietta and Minnie, of Dividing Ridge, spent a week with relatives in our town not long since.

Humphrey T. Wright of Pittsburgh and Harry Graziar of Johnstown spent a few days in our village last week.

Alonzo Holderbaum and Eugene Cuppitt were given schools in Juniata Township. The former the Phillips and the latter the Burns.

Rev. J. S. Fulton, P. E. of the U. B. church, will hold the last quarterly conference for this year at Hollickville Saturday afternoon, August 8, and will preach in the evening; Sunday morning at Ryot, in the afternoon at Stone church, and in the evening at New Paris.

The Grange picnic held in G. W. Hoover's grove on Saturday was a success. The literary program announced was carried out and in the afternoon the New Paris ball team played two games—the first with Pleasantville with a result of 7 to 1, and the second with Mann's Choice with a result of 8 to 4 in favor of New Paris.

On Saturday William D. Slick and wife and Samuel Slick and wife attended the funeral of their uncle Benjamin W. Slick at Roaring Spring, Caj.

Schellsburg

August 6—Rev. C. E. Keller of Roaring Spring is spending this week in our town.

Harry Burns and family, of Springhope, spent Sunday with Mr. Burns' father, John A. Burns, near town.

Miss Mary Newman of Mann's Choice and Miss Egolf of Cumberland visited the former's grandmother, Mrs. D. H. Darr, a few days last week.

Harry Hull and son, of Altoona, Miss Olive Oster of Osterburg, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Blackburn, of Springhope, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Mowry and son, of near town, spent Sunday with J. C. Williams and wife.

Prof. George L. Wolfe spent a few days with his brother in Johnstown last week.

Master Joseph Colvin, who was very badly hurt last week by being thrown from a horse, we are glad to say is much better.

Somers Fischer spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Hyndman.

Quite a number of people of our town, both old and young, spent last Wednesday picnicking at Spring Meadow.

George Beneish died at his home on Wednesday about 3 o'clock. Obituary will follow next week.

T. H. Rock, W. H. Beaver, R. L. Williams, G. L. Wolfe, E. P. Gumbert, William Beagle and John Shaffer attended the I. O. O. F. reunion at Coaldale on Wednesday.

William Gardner and wife and Miss Maggie Gardner and niece, of Johnstown, spent Sunday with C. H. Dannaker and wife.

Malachi Mock, who had been visiting friends at Cessna, has returned home again.

Rainsburg

August 5—Dr. Chester Cessna has been bedfast for a week, suffering from malarial fever.

Miss Margaret James, after spending the past two weeks with relatives and friends at Cessna, has returned home, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Mary Henderson.

J. C. Roberts of Bedford Township was a borough visitor the fore part of the week.

High Constable Ralph Cessna, who was on the sick list, is now numbered among the convalescents.

Squire G. W. Ritchey and daughter, from Everett, registered at the Cessna House Saturday last.

At the Reformed ministerium held at the National House, Bedford, Monday of this week the Rev. Charles E. Rupp read a paper on the subject, "The Reformed Church, the Church for the Times."

Rev. John Gross and family, of Severn, Md., are visiting in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cessna, parents of Mrs. Gross.

The condition of Simon Pannel, who is suffering from typhoid fever, is slightly improved over that of last week.

Milton Shoemaker, employed in the Pennsylvania Railway mail service and residing in Pittsburgh, and Joseph, an engineer of Derry, are spending a few days of their well-earned vacations with their mother, Mrs. Barbara Shoemaker.

Frank Naus of Bedford was a business caller in the borough Saturday.

Taylor Diehl of Charlesville, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Joe Shoemaker of Derry Station, spent Sunday with Mrs. Barbara Shoemaker.

The following persons enjoyed a drive to the county almshouse last Sunday: John Ott, wife and little daughter Margaret, Miss Jennie Cessna and J. Douglass James.

William Rawlings added to his personal property by purchasing a fine driving horse last week.

Miss Lena Shaffer of Huntingdon is visiting her uncle, Philip Morgart. Clinton Jones, the well-known tinsmith of Everett, spent Saturday with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Jones, at the Lutheran parsonage.

During the past week the reservoir has undergone some needed repairs, thus placing the water supply in a more healthy state.

Miss Blanche Smith is at present on the sick list, a victim of la grippe.

Benjamin G. Reighard and family spent Sunday with the family of Samuel T. Diehl, residing near the borough limits.

The Misses Woods, of Altoona, are visiting their uncle, William Ressler. John Koontz and wife, of Colerain Township, visited friends and relatives here last Sunday.

Friend's Cove

August 5—Howard Hyde and family, of Greensburg, who had been visiting in the Cove, have returned home.

The festival at the Cove church last Saturday evening was a success. P. C. Diehl is putting a new roof on his dwelling house.

Nick W. Diehl is erecting a new wagon shed and corncrib.

Mrs. Charles Turner and son, of Johnstown, were visiting in the Cove last week.

The Charlesville Grange is in a flourishing condition; it now has 51 members.

Joshua Diehl's little baby is in a very critical condition at present writing.

On Saturday, September 5, the second annual union picnic of all the Sunday schools in the Cove will be held in Harry I. Diehl's grove just south of W. F. Biddle's residence. It will be under the auspices of the Trinity Sabbath school. Everybody will be made welcome. Come, bring your well-filled basket and let us spend a social day in the woods.

Quite a number of our people attended the Odd Fellows' reunion at Coaldale today.

Today's rain is very welcome, as vegetation was in a very wilted condition.

Hyndman

August 5—Mrs. F. C. Bortz and two children, Ruth and Carl, of Aspinwall, are visiting Mrs. Bortz' mother, Mrs. Lucy Hite, on Fourth Avenue. Mr. Bortz will later join his family and together they will visit relatives and friends in Cumberland Valley.

Miss Jane Noel of this place, who has been training for a nurse in Allegheny Hospital for the past year, is ill at that institution.

Somers Fischer of Schellsburg was a Hyndman visitor over Sunday.

Miss Laura Madore, after undergoing an operation in the Western Maryland Hospital at Cumberland, has returned home much improved.

Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Erhart are visiting in Cumberland Valley.

The Cumberland nine was victorious in last Saturday's ball game at this place, the home team losing by a score of 11-8.

Rev. W. F. Bartlett of Somerset held quarterly services here on Sunday.

day. He was accompanied by his wife.

Miss Dessie Somerville of Cumberland is the guest of her friend, Miss Alice Blair.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller, formerly of this place, now residents of McKeesport, were at the home of Mrs. Miller's niece, Mrs. Grace Margroff, several days this week.

Mrs. Mary Mable and two little daughters, of Winfield, Kan., who have been visiting relatives and friends for the past week, left for Connelville Saturday. Mrs. Mable will there visit her father, H. W. Miller.

Miss Bertha May was at Riddlesburg over Sunday.

Theodore Arnold and wife, who were guests at the home of Oscar Albright, have returned to their home at McKees Rocks.

A baby girl has been added to the family of W. H. Weller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bruner have as guests Mrs. Leon Bruner and child, of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. F. S. Knipple is a Johnstown visitor at present.

The man, friends of F. J. Carpenter will be glad to learn that the much-feared attack of fever has been averted. Though confined to his home, Mr. Carpenter is doing nicely.

Miss Angwin Thomas returned to her home Tuesday from a ten days' visit at Allegany Grove and Frostburg, Md.

Miss Pearl Kennell of near Hyndman left Saturday for a week's stay at Mountain Lake Park.

Elwood Shaffer and family have returned from a visit in Baltimore.

Cessna

August 6—Miss Hazel Nelson of Altoona is visiting friends and relatives at this place.

Miss Beatrice Courtney of Johnstown, after spending some time with her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, returned to her home on Tuesday.

Clarence Hammond of Altoona spent a few days last week with his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Hammond, and on his return was accompanied by his grandmother, Mrs. Rebecca Wisegarver, who contemplates spending some time in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. T. Anderson and daughter Lena, of Pleasant Valley, spent Sunday in our town.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tobias, after spending a few days in Philadelphia, returned home on Monday.

Harry Hershberger of Jeanette is visiting friends and relatives at this place.

Miss May Hershberger has gone to Youngstown, O., on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Trout and family and John Trout, of Altoona, are visiting at Calvin Trout's.

Mrs. Joseph Kleindinst and three sons, Alfred, Edwin and Jack, and Mrs. Milton and stepson Robert, of Washington, D. C., who have been visiting relatives at this place, returned home last Saturday.

Our ball team was defeated by the Mann's Choice nine last Saturday in Anderson's meadow.

Point

August 5—Prof. D. M. Wonders and wife were guests of the family of your correspondent Monday night. The United Evangelical church will have preaching Saturday night, August 8.

Forest Deane, who has been in a hospital at Philadelphia where he had an operation performed some time ago, returned home much improved, and it is thought that he will get to be a well man again.

J. J. Milligan and Mrs. Jennie Mickey, of Johnstown, came over from that city on Tuesday and returned on Wednesday, accompanied by Helen Mickey, a daughter of Mrs. Mickey, who will make her home at Greensburg.

Hezekiah King of Altoona is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. King at present.

W. W. Deibaugh has carpenters busy pushing the work on his new house at Napier.

Misses Nannie Poorman and Clara Culp of Schellsburg, spent from Wednesday until Friday as guests of your correspondent's family. Come again, girls.

Family Secrets.

A father complains that his little six-year-old girl is too talkative. He says: The worst of it is when we have visitors she is continually making mistakes of the worst sort, mistakes that tend to rattle the dry bones of the family skeleton in the cupboard.

Recently she allowed her tongue to run away with her, as usual, the result of which was that she very much embarrassed both her father and mother, although the guests seemed delighted.

I had a very serious talk with her and impressed upon her, or tried to, that she must not tell any family secret. The next time we had company she was permitted to come to the table only by promising that she wouldn't utter a word.

She behaved beautifully and had nothing to say until the dessert was about to be taken away. Then her lips began to quiver, and finally she burst into tears.

"Why, what's the matter, darling?" her mother asked.

"I—I want some more ice cream, if that isn't a family secret," she wailed between sobs.—London Telegraph.

A Live Steak.

"It is a mistake," said the president of the New York Waiters' club, "to think that an Englishman always wants his beef excessively rare. As a matter of fact, the English like their beef better done than we do. I once saw a waiter," he continued, "serve an English gentleman with a cut of very, very rare sirloin. The duke looked closely at the slice of bright red meat. Then he said:

"Walter, just send for the butcher, will you?"

"The butcher, sir?" the waiter stammered.

"Yes," said the duke. "This beef doesn't seem to be quite dead yet."

OUR

RED TAG SALE

IS A GREAT SUCCESS

And will continue until all Suits that have a Red Tag on them are sold.

Prices Reduced on These Suits

1-4, 1-3 and 1-2

SIMON'S CLOTHING STORE,

The Leading and Largest Clothier,

SIMON OPPENHEIMER, Prop.

BEDFORD, PA.

Opposite the Grand Central Hotel

Lord Penzance's Acquaintance.

When the late Lord Penzance was plain Mr. Wilde, he once took an early morning stroll round Covent Garden market. There he entered into conversation with an old man of genial aspect who had just made a purchase of a geranium. Mr. Wilde soon found that the stranger was an enthusiastic amateur gardener, and the pair had an interesting chat on horticultural topics as they walked toward Oxford street.

Suddenly the fare in a passing hansom cab signaled to the driver to pull up and within the vehicle Wilde saw his friend, Sergeant Ballantine. Bid, the old man adieu, Wilde entered the cab.

In surprised accents Ballantine exclaimed, "How on earth did you come to know that man?"

"Picked him up just now in Covent Garden market," said his companion.

"Well, Wilde," the sergeant remarked, "your new acquaintance is a craft, the hangman!"—London Academe.

Annoying the Passengers.

"There used to be in one of the southern states," said a military man, "a railroad that was notorious for its slowness. This line was so slow that the people took to lampooning it in the press. Thus one Memorial day a planter wrote to the Rapier, the leading paper of his district:

"The Editor of the Rapier: 'Dear Sir—Is there no way to put a stop to begging along the line of the railroad? For instance, yesterday an aged veteran with a wooden leg kept pace with the afternoon express all the way from Paint Rock to Nola Chucky and annoyed the passengers exceedingly, going from one open window to another with his importunate solicitations. 'VOX POPULI'

—Washington Star.

Half of the Pleasure.

The youngest girl of a Baltimore family was recently much distressed at dessert to discover that there was ice cream for dinner.

"Oh, papa," exclaimed the youngster reproachfully, "why didn't they tell me this morning that we were going to have ice cream?"

"What difference would that have made?"

"Lots!" sighed the child. "I could have expected it all day."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Wanted a Pusher.

"What did the new neighbors come to borrow now?"

"They wanted the lawn mower."

"Is that all?"

"That was all they spoke about, but I think from the way they stood around they would like to have borrowed my husband to run it."—Nashville American.

Apothecary's Weight.

"I'm sure," whispered the gossip, "that Mr. Pillsbury, the druggist, takes a dram occasionally."

"Yes," replied the bright girl, "I believe he has no scruples in that direction."—Philadelphia Press.

A Keen Business Man.

Noah landed on Ararat.

"Fine," he cried—"a mountain and seashore resort in one!"

Herewith he started to build a summer hotel.—New York Sun.

St. John's Reformed Church

Sunday school 9:45 a. m.; divine worship 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. All cordially invited.

J. Albert Eyer, Pastor.

Get your printing done at THE GAZETTE job rooms.

THE BEDFORD GAZETTE

ESTABLISHED IN 1805

The oldest and best newspaper in Bedford county; the people's favorite; prints such news as appeals and attracts. Most profitable advertising medium in this section of the state. Reaches two-thirds of the homes on the rural delivery routes of the county. Advertising rates reasonable.

One Price to All : : : $1.50 Per Year

Charlotte Bronte's Last Tribute.

"He will not separate us—we have been so happy!" These were the last words of Charlotte Bronte when, having become Mrs. Nicholls and having lived with her husband only nine months, death came to snatch the cup of domestic felicity from the lips of the happy pair. A low, wandering delirium came on. Wakening for an instant from this stupor, she saw her husband's woe worn face and caught the sound of some murmured words of prayer that God would spare her.

"Oh," she whispered, "I am not going to die, am I? He will not separate us—we have been so happy!"

Milton and "Paradise Regained."

After some common discourses had passed between us he (Milton) called for a manuscript of his, which, being brought, he delivered to me, bidding me take it home with me and read it at my leisure and when I had done so return it to him with my judgment.

When I came home and had set myself to read it I found it was that excellent poem which he entitled "Paradise Lost."

After I had, with the best attention, read it through I made him another visit and returned to him his book. He asked me how I liked it and what I thought of it, which I modestly but freely told him, and after some further discourse about it I pleasantly said to him, "Thou hast said much here of paradise lost, but what hast thou to say of paradise found?"

He made no answer, but sat some time in a muse, then broke off that discourse and fell upon another subject, so when "Paradise Regained" was written Milton said in a pleasant tone, "That is owing to you, for you put it into my head by the question you put to me at Chalfont, which before I had not thought of."—History of Thomas Eliwood.

The Mathematical Mind.

A literary worker who wished to do a large amount of reading by proxy advertised for an assistant capable of digesting the contents of a tremendous quantity of books in a very short while. While weighing each applicant's qualifications for rapid assimilation reading he inquired carefully into his mathematical acquirements. He finally chose the man who was most skillful at untangling arithmetical problems. "On the surface that seems an unnecessary accomplishment in this case," he said, "but experience has taught me that anybody who is expert in figures can read any kind of literature put before him with greater accuracy and speed than the person lacking in mathematical acumen."—New York Times.

PERSONAL NOTES

(Continued From First Page.)

Mr. J. W. Huff of Saxton was a business visitor in town yesterday. Mrs. John McNeal of Easton is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Tate.

Prof. Frank Little of Elizabeth, N. J., is the guest of his cousin, Alvin L. Little, Esq.

Mr. Thomas Donahoe and bride, of Clarksburg, W. Va., spent several days this week with his sister, Mrs. John Will, and other relatives in this vicinity.

Mrs. Anna M. Kean, daughter, Mrs. U. L. Allen, and grandson Robert Allen, of Pittsburgh, are spending this month at their summer home in Bedford.

Mr. H. S. McClellan and wife and Mr. W. Barnes and wife, of Somerset, were guests at the home of Mr. G. W. McClellan, 632 West Pitt Street, several days this week.

Mrs. Frank May and little Miss Eleanor McMullen, of Washington, D. C., are visiting relatives at this place. The latter is the daughter of Mr. Frank L. McMullen.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. McMullen and little daughter and Mr. Frank Armstrong, who had been visiting Bedford relatives, have returned to their homes in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. George H. Little and nephew, G. Milburn Little, and Mrs. Conrad Beck and daughter Hazel have returned to Cumberland after a two weeks' visit to friends at Bedford, Everett and Chaneysville.

Baseball at 2:30 p. m. today.

St. Clairsville Lutheran Pastorale Services Sunday, August 9, as follows: St. Clairsville at 10 a. m.; Miller at 2:15 p. m.

J. H. Diehl, Pastor.

PRICE FIGURES

A Frost In July.

By C. B. Lewis.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

When Miss Mary Cleves, forty years old and aunt of Eileen Cleves, not yet quite half those years, accepted the responsibility of acting as chaperon to the young lady for a few weeks' stay in the Berkshire hills she determined to do her duty at all costs.

They had scarcely reached the hotel selected when that duty confronted her. Paul Clifford, the artist, crossed their path. The young people had many mutual friends in town, but had never been introduced.

In any hotel in the Berkshires, the Catskills or on the seashore a handsome young girl and a bachelor artist of note, with romance still leashed in his soul, are bound to meet sooner or later if given half a show.

Such meetings come about by accident, or Providence takes a hand, and the first thing they know they have introduced themselves to each other and are talking about art and motor trips through Europe.

Aunt Mary understood this; also that she was there to prevent it. She would insist on formality to the bitter end. She did insist. Even when she and Miss Eileen in walking out one day were suddenly confronted by a snake as much as nine inches long and screamed and the artist came running up and saved their lives from the monster she stood on formality and insisted that her charge do the same. The artist hero was dismissed with a formal bow and went his way with an odd sense of their ingratitude gnawing at his heart.

Three or four days later, however, a family with whom he was well acquainted in the city arrived, and a formal introduction took place. This made things all right in one way and all wrong in another.

He was now privileged to lift his hat and say good morning, but the old maid looked upon him as a possible lover and added many precautions. She was polite, but she was also vigilant. The artist probably hoped, as another man would in his place, that in time she would thaw out, and he held himself ready day and night for more heroic deeds.

Around the second story of the hotel ran a veranda, and the three parties in the case had rooms opening on to this promenade. One afternoon as the aunt was parading up and down the veranda she noticed that the artist was in his room writing a letter. She at once suspected that it was a note to be passed to Miss Eileen at the first favorable opportunity.

The chaperon was disturbed, but determined. She promenaded clear around the house, and upon her return she beheld a sheet of note paper lying on the floor. She also saw that the artist had stepped out of his room. A draft had caught up the letter he was writing and drawn it through the open window.

Aunt Mary was a woman of the sternest principles. She reasoned it out in a moment that she had no moral right to that note. It was for her to ignore its existence and continue her promenade, but at a glance her stern principles took a tumble.

She stooped, seized the sheet and fled to her room, which was next to that of her niece. Even then it was not too late to save her lifelong principles untarnished. She could have torn the sheet into fragments before reading the lines written thereon. She could, but she didn't. She read even to the last word, and a moment later she was in the room of her niece, saying: "I suspected it from the first! He is a cold blooded wretch!"

"Who is, auntie?" was the natural query.

"Mr. Clifford! I have found him out just in time. Oh, the perfidy of it! Oh, the insults heaped upon us! Read that. No, let me read it."

And, holding the half finished letter in her left hand and using the right forefinger to punctuate the air while she held her figure in tragic pose and spoke from the depths of her indignation, she read:

Dear Jim—I have seen both of them. The old one is no good and badly out of repair. Wouldn't take her as a gift. Guess she was one of the first ones made. The other is a clipper with heaps of go in her. Decided bargain, and I shall close the deal at once. Climbs the steepest hills around here like a cat, and you can't see her scoot on the level. The old one—

That was as far as the artist had written when he left the room, and the breeze came in and tore it with the sheet and sent it to the feet of the woman who had a duty to do. She nestled reading and maintained her pose for half a minute and then solemnly said:

"I found it on the veranda. The wind brought it to me. It came from his room. I saw him as he was writing it."

"Do you mean that Mr. Clifford wrote this?" asked the young lady.

"I do. Was ever villain more completely unmasked! He has seen both of us. The old one is no good and badly out of repair. I am the old one. I am badly out of repair."

"But, auntie—"

"He refers to you as a clipper with heaps of go in her. You are a decided bargain. You climb hills like a cat. You scoot on the level! The man ought to be driven from the hotel."

"He never wrote it!" exclaimed the girl. "He never wrote it you nor me. There is some awful mistake here. I never saw his handwriting, but I'm—"

"Wait right here!" hoarsely commanded the aunt. And, with the letter in her hand, she went down to the office to consult the register. She was absent ten minutes, and during this interval Miss Eileen heard a man's steps on the veranda and peeped out to see the artist looking about as if he had lost something. When the aunt returned she had the light of victory in her eyes.

"The writing is the same," she announced. "He would be convicted in any court in the land. I am an old one and badly out of repair, and you are a clipper and climb hills like a cat. If he doesn't leave the hotel this evening we shall start for home in the morning."

"But I won't go until we are sure about it," replied the young lady, with spirit.

"Oh, we'll be sure enough about it. Meanwhile at dinner tonight we'll give Mr. Paul Clifford the coldest snubbing a man ever received. If you don't assist me I'll telegraph your father. We'll see if he will put up with his daughter being called a cat and a decided bargain. I will do the snubbing, and you simply maintain your dignity. Out of repair, am I? We'll see if he isn't worse off."

The artist missed his half finished epistle, made a search for it and finally laddered another and mailed it away. He came down into the parlors ten minutes before dinner, hoping for a word or two with Miss Cleves.

She blushed at sight of him and blushed still harder as he advanced, but she stood on her dignity—that is, she turned her head away—and in some confusion he passed her and remarked to the aunt that it had been a fine day. Miss Cleves wheeled about like a machine, and after fixing him with a cold glare lasting thirty seconds she icily replied:

"Sir, you have made a mistake."

The artist fell back. He almost fell over himself in doing so. So far as he was concerned he might have fallen over the hotel and not been aware of the fact. It was a summer frost, and it nipped him hard. Had he turned once more toward the girl he would have found her pose as dignified as before, but a look of something like pity in her eyes.

Mr. Clifford did not enter the dining room. Frostbites take away a man's appetite. He went out into the dusk and sat down on a boulder and imagined that he was Sherlock Holmes, and after an hour or so he figured things out.

Then he sent a telegram to a friend in the city—a friend who knew the Cleves family well. That night he was missed from parlors and verandas. He could play and sing and recite, and there were many inquiries for him. When they were addressed to Miss Cleves her reply was:

"Excuse me, but I don't know the party."

There was a new arrival at the hotel next forenoon. He was closeted with the artist for half an hour, and then he hid him forth and found Miss Cleves seated in a grotto, still wondering how any man on earth dared to write to another that she was an old one. The interview which followed was hot for the first fifteen minutes. Then it gradually cooled off, though at regular intervals for the next half hour the woman in the case rose to her feet and exclaimed:

"Yes, but how dared he write that the old one was no good and out of repair? It's shocking, sir. It's dreadful! It's something that I cannot forgive."

"But you know, Miss Cleves—"

"And how dared he speak of my dear niece as climbing a hill like a cat? And how dared he refer to her as a scooter on the level? Think of it, sir—a scooter!"

"But you now understand—"

"Why, if her father come to know that she had been called a cat, a scooter and a bargain, I should tremble for the consequences!"

Nevertheless, when a man has explanations that explain and when he goes over those explanations often enough, even an indignant old maid must be convinced at last. So it was with Miss Cleves. She finally melted, drew a breath of relief, and seeing Miss Eileen strolling toward them, she called to her:

"Oh, dearie, it appears that we have made an awful mistake. It transpires that Mr. Clifford was writing to Mr. Gaston about a couple of autos that the latter had asked him to look at. Therefore I am not an old one, and you don't climb hills like a cat. If you can find Mr. Clifford bring him here, and I will apologize."

Any artist who didn't pursue his advantage after that deserved to be left behind in the race.

The Land of the Free.

"There's eight nations represented in this ward of ours," said Mr. Holloran to his wife on his return from a political meeting. He began to count them off on his fingers.

"There's Irish, Frinch, Eycetallans, Poles, Germans, Roossians, Greeks and—"

Mr. Holloran stopped and began again:

"There's Irish, Frinch, Eycetallans, Poles, Germans, Roossians, Greeks—an' ain't it queer I disremember the other wan? There's Irish, Frinch—"

"Maybe 'twas Americans," suggested Mrs. Holloran.

"Sure, that's it," said her husband. "I couldn't think."—Youth's Companion.

A Substitute.

Mrs. Millsap's new girl, who never had gone out to service before and had had scarcely any experience as a cook, appeared to be willing and industrious and was quick to learn. In view of her inexperience she had readily agreed to work for $3.50 a week. Mrs. Millsap, who was an expert cook, had taken much pains with her education in that line, and at the end of five or six weeks Jimma was equal to any demands upon her in the line of kitchen work. The mistress was greatly surprised, therefore, when the maid one morning gave her a week's notice.

"What does this mean, Jimma?" she asked. "Haven't I treated you fairly?"

"Yes, ma'am," answered the girl, "but I've learned how to cook now, and I've found a place where I can get $5 a week right at the start."

"You didn't ask me to raise your wages. Do you think you are acting fairly with me?"

"Oh, I'm going to do the square thing with you, Mrs. Millsap," said Jimma. "I've got a sister about a year younger than I am, and she's perfectly willing to come here and work for $3.50 a week—till she learns cooking anyhow."—Youth's Companion.

Trivial Cause of a Bloody War.

In the year 1654 a Polish nobleman became obnoxious to the laws of his country by reason of his having committed a crime. He fled to Sweden, whereupon John Casimir, king of Poland, wrote to Charles Gustavus, king of Sweden, demanding the surrender of the criminal. The king of Sweden on reading the dispatch noticed that his own name and titles were followed by two "et ceteras," while the name of the king of Poland was followed by three. The missing "et cetera" so enraged the king of Sweden that he at once declared war against Poland. The war was carried on with great bitterness until 1660, when a peace was signed at Oliva, near Danzig. A contemporary writer (Kochowski) poured out his lamentations on the war in these terms: "How dear has this 'et cetera' been to us! With how many lives have these two potatoes paid for these missing eight letters! With what streams of blood has the failure of a few drops of ink been avenged!"

A Horse's Toe Nails.

Few persons realize that a horse's hoof is really the same thing as the toe nails of human beings or of animals having toes. The horn of a hoof grows just as a toe nail does. The hoof grows more rapidly in unshod horses than in those wearing shoes, and it grows faster in horses which are well groomed and well fed. But on an average the horn grows about a third of an inch a month. Hind hoofs grow faster than fore hoofs. The toe of the hoof being the longest part, it takes longer for the horn to grow down there than at the heel. For instance, the toe will grow entirely down in from eleven to thirteen months, while the heel will grow down in from three to five months. As the new horn grows out any cracks or defects in the old gradually work down to where they can be cut off, just as with human finger nails you can watch the progress of a bruise from the roof to the tip.—New York Sun.

Dictionary Users Modest.

"Men are never so modest as when they go to use a dictionary," remarked an attendant at the public library. "As a rule, when you see a man go to a public dictionary or one in any place where other people are around you'll see him look about furtively as if in fear somebody might see him. Men who make no pretensions at having any great amount of knowledge nevertheless seem to be embarrassed to have any one think that they do not know the pronunciation or meaning of some English word. The next time you see a man looking up a word in the dictionary just ask him what it is he is looking up and see if he will tell you. You'll find in at least nine cases out of ten that he won't tell you. He's afraid you'll know it and have the fun of enlightening him."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Bibliophile's Reply.

Mandell Creighton, who was bishop of London, had a horror of lending his favorite books. A fellow clergyman once visited the bishop and took a fancy to an old edition of Shakespeare. He borrowed the volume and did not think to return it for several months. Finally the minister returned it with a letter, saying, "My Dear Bishop—I have great pleasure in returning the volume you lent me." The bishop answered, "My Dear Brother—All the joy is mine."

Her Progress.

"The last time I saw you you were complaining about your servant being so slow."

"Oh, she's progressing now."

"Is she really?"

"Yes. She's getting slower and slower."—Exchange.

The Realistic Actor.

"Does he believe in realism?"

"Yes. But he carries it to excess. In the second scene he is severely wounded, and he has a doctor issue bulletins between the acts."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Hot Retort.

The Writer—Ah, laugh at me if you will, but I will write of you in my journal that which will make you sick! The Artist—Everything that m'sieur writes makes me sick.—Life.

What ripens fast does not last.—Shakespeare.

The effect of Scott's Emulsion on thin, pale children is magical.

It makes them plump, rosy, active, happy.

It contains Cod Liver Oil, Hypophosphites and Glycerine, to make fat, blood and bone, and so put together that it is easily digested by little folk.

ALL DRUGGISTS: 50c. AND $1.00.

Today's Suggestion by Ellen Stan.

SKIRT WITH BORDER.

THE most popular skirts for morning wear are the severely plain ones worn with a simple blouse of lawn or batiste. For the early spring they were made of cloth, but now that summer is here they are made of raw silk or linen.

A great many of the skirts show the deep borders of a pretty contrasting material, such as a white poplinette with a deift blue border at the bottom about nine inches deep. One skirt of a gray and white striped material had 22 to 32 inches waist measure. To copy this skirt for the average person it requires 8½ yards of material 27 inches wide or 7½ yards 36 inches wide.

Any reader of this paper who desires to secure this pattern may do so by sending 10 cents to this office. Give the number, 4160, state size desired and write the full address plainly. The pattern will be forwarded promptly by mail.

$49 Buys a New Improved "Greencastle"

Grain, Seed and Fertilizer Drill, double drive, positive force feed, light running, large capacity, sows evenly, easily regulated and durable. Order now and save $16 to $20.

The Geiser Mfg. Co.
WAYNESBORO, PA.

ASBESTOS ROOFING WEATHER PROOF FIRE PROOF
ACID PROOF
J-M ASBESTOS ROOFING
By covering them with J-M ASBESTOS ROOFING J-M Roofing resists fire—because it is made of Asbestos, an indestructible mineral, which is not affected by fire, rust, rot or wear. Easily applied.
"J-M" is the only prepared roofing that is permanently durable. You can save money by using it.
Ask for samples and prices.
H. W. Johns-Manville Co.,
21 to 25 N. 2nd Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

PUBLIC SALE of Valuable REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of Bedford county, I will offer at public sale on the premises, near Cessna Station, late the property of Philip Mock and Susanna Mock, deceased, on at 1:30 o'clock p. m., all of the following real estate, viz: A farm or tract of land containing 104 acres, 147 perches, and allowance, situate in East St. Clair township, Bedford county, Pa., adjoining lands of Job Walter, Mrs. Joseph Beagle, Frank Manges, Emanuel Morehead and Edward Crissman; about 80 acres under cultivation, balance wood land, hereon thereon erected a two-story house, barn, with three stables, wagon shed, and usual outbuildings. Orchard of fruit, never-failing supply of good water for house and stock. A fine opportunity to secure a good home.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1908,

Terms:—Ten per cent. of bid must be paid or secured on day of sale, balance on easy terms; can be arranged on day of sale. For desired information apply to

JOSEPH MOCK, Trustee, Etc.,
Or H. D. TATE, Atty., Cessna, Pa.
Bedford, Pa. July 31-31

Notes

It has done me good to be some what parched by the heat and drenched by the rain of life.—Longfellow.

How easy is the thought in certain moods of the loveliest, most unselfish devotion! How hard is the doing of the thought in the face of a thousand difficulties!—George MacDonald.

THE First National Bank

BEDFORD, PA.

Capital $100,000
United States bonds 100,000
Liability of Shareholders 100,000
Surplus and undivided profits 70,000
Security to depositors more than 500,000

Three per cent. interest paid on time deposits.
The accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals received upon the most favorable terms consistent with safe and conservative banking.

OFFICERS.
OSCAR D. DOTY President
A. B. EGOLF Vice President
EDMUND S. DOTY Cashier

DIRECTORS.
Oscar D. Doty Jacob Chamberlain
A. B. Egolf Patrick Hughes
J. H. Longenecker Ezra C. Doty
Edmund L. Smith

HUNTINGDON AND BROAD TOP MOUNTAIN RAILROAD.

In Effect June 21, 1908.

NORTH STATIONS.		SOUTH.
P. M.	A. M.	P. M.	A. M.
5.05	9.40	Mt. Dallas.	10.25
5.08	9.43	Everett	10.22
5.16	9.51	Tatesville	10.12
5.26	10.01	Cypher	10.01
5.34	10.09	Hopewell	9.49
5.38	10.13	Riddlesburg	9.44
5.50	10.25	A. Saxton L.	9.32
4.30	8.30	L. Dudley A.	10.25
4.45	8.45	Coalmont	10.05
5.00	9.00	A. Saxton L.	9.40

5.50 10.25 L. Saxton A. 9.32 6.33
6.01 10.35 ... Cove ... 9.21 6.22
6.06 10.40 ... Hummel ... 9.16 6.17
6.12 10.45 ... Entriaken ... 9.11 6.12
6.19 10.52 Marklesburg 9.04 6.02
6.23 10.56 Brumbaugh 9.00 5.58
6.28 11.01 ... Grafton ... 8.55 5.53
6.32 11.05 McConnellistn 8.50 5.49
6.40 11.15 Huntingdon 8.40 5.40

Bedford Special
Train No. 5 leaves Huntingdon at 2 p. m. and arrives at Bedford at 3.50 p. m. Train No. 6 leaves Bedford at 2 p. m. and arrives at Huntingdon at 3.50 p. m.

Sunday Trains
Trains leave Huntingdon at 8.45 a. m. and 5.40 p. m. and arrive at Bedford at 10.30 a. m. and 7.25 p. m. Trains leave Bedford at 9.45 a. m. and 3.20 p. m. and arrive at Huntingdon at 11.30 a. m. and 5.05 p. m.

DR. CHARLES R. GRISSINGER DENTIST

BEDFORD, PA.
Porcelain Inlay, Crown and Bridge Work. Somniform or Gas administered. Careful attention.
Office on Juliana Street, above J. H. Jordan's Law Office.

Humphrey D. Tate

Attorney-at-Law
BEDFORD, PA.
Office on Public Square.

D. Lloyd Claycomb

Attorney-at-Law
ALTOONA, PA.
All business entrusted to my care will receive prompt attention. n6-03

R. C. McNamara

Attorney-at-Law
BEDFORD, PA.
Office in Ridenour Block. oct28-04

Frank Fletcher

Attorney-at-Law
BEDFORD, PA.
Office on Public Square.

WINDSOR HOTEL
W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager
Midway between Broad St. Station and Reading Terminal on Filbert St.
European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $1.50 per day and up
The only moderate priced hotel of reputation and consequence in PHILADELPHIA

Bedford Planing Mill Co.

LUMBER,
Slate, Buck, Shingles, Planing Mill Work of every description.
A. C. STEINER, Supt.

60 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS &c.
Copyrights &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsome illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

Gems In Verse

OLD FAVORITES.

ODE.

[Sung in the town hall, Concord, Mass., July 4, 1857.]

O H, tenderly the haughty day
Pills his blue urn with fire;
One morn is in the mighty heaven
And one in our desire.

The cannon booms from town to town;
Our pulses beat not less;
The joy bells chime their tidings down,
Which children's voices bless.

For he that flung the broad blue fold
O'er mantling land and sea
One-third part of the sky unrolled
For the banner of the free.

The men are ripe of Saxon kind
To build an equal state,
To take the statute from the mind
And make of duty fate.

United States, the ages lead—Present and past is under-song—
Go put your creed into your deed
Nor speak with double tongue.

For sea and land don't understand,
Nor skies without frown
See rights for which the one hand fights

By the other cloven down.

Be just at home; then write your scroll
Of honor o'er the sea
And bid the broad Atlantic roll
A ferry of the free.

And henceforth there shall be no chain
Save underneath the sea.
The wires shall murmur through the main
Sweet songs of liberty.

The conscious stars accord above,
The waters wild below,
And under, through the cable wove,
Her fiery errands go.

For he that worketh high and wise,
Nor pauses in his plan,
Will take the sun out of the skies
Ere freedom out of man.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

A MARCHING SONG.

WITH us the fields and rivers,
The grass that summer thrills,
The haze where morning quivers,
The peace at heart of hills,
The sense that kindles nature and the soul that fills.

WITH us all natural sights,
All notes of natural scale;
With us the starry lights;
With us the nightingale;
With us the heart and secret of the worldly tale—

THE strife of things and beauty,
The fire and light adored,
Truth and life lightening duty,
Love without crown or sword,
That by his might and godhead makes man god and lord.

THESE have we, these are ours,
That no priests give nor kings,
The honey of all these flowers,
The heart of all these springs; Ours, for the truth is living. Wake, for the night is dead.

—Algernon C. Swinburne.

NOBILITY.

TRUE worth is in being, not seeming—
In doing each day that goes by Some little good—not in the dreaming

Of great things to do by and by,
For whatever men say in blindness
And spite of the fancies of youth,
There's nothing so kingly as kindness
And nothing so royal as truth.

We get back our mete as we measure—
We cannot do wrong and feel right,
Nor can we give pain and feel pleasure,
For justice avenges each slight.
The air for the wing of the sparrow,
The bush for the robin and wren,
But always the path that is narrow
And straight for the children of men

"Tis not in the pages of story
The heart of his life to beguile,
Though he who makes his hourship to glory
Gives all that he hath for her smile,
For when from her heights he has won her,

Alas, it is only to prove
That nothing's so sacred as honor
And nothing so loyal as love!
We cannot make bargains for blisses
Nor catch them like fishes in nets,
And sometimes the thing our life misses Helps more than the thing which it gets.

For good lieth not in pursuing Nor gaining of great nor of small,
But just in the doing, and doing
As we would be done by, is all.

Through envy, through malice, through hating,
Against the world early and late,
No jot of our courage abating—
Our part is to work and to wait,
And slight is the sifting of his trouble
Whose winnings are less than his worth,
For he who is honest is noble,
Whatever his fortunes or birth.

—Alice Cary.

FROM "THE HERMITAGE."

I LOVE thee, thou brown, homely, dear old earth!
Teach me thy wisdom; let me learn the flowers,
And know the rocks and trees,
And touch the springs of all thy hidden powers.

Let the still gloom of thy rock fastnesses
Fall deep upon my spirit till the voice
Of brooks become familiar and my heart rejoice

With joy of birds and winds and all the hours,
Unmaddened by the babble of vain men,
Bring thy inmost converse to my ken.

—Edward Rowland Sill.

THE ABIDING.

PAIN and pleasure both decay;
Wealth and poverty depart;
Wisdom makes a longer stay.
Therefore be thou wise, my heart.

LAND remains not, nor do they Who the lands today control.
Kings and princes pass away.
Therefore be thou fixed, my soul.

IF by hatred, love or pride
Thou art shaken, thou art wrong.
Only one thing will abide—
Only goodness can be strong.

—Richard Henry Stoddard.

LOVE IN ONE OCTAVE.

SUNDAY, Madge, you seemed so fair,
Love, the rascal, came to blind me;
Monday morn I feared your stare;
Tuesday you thought fit to mind me;
Wednesday—well, perhaps you'd care;
Thursday saw your lips resigned me;
Friday came the solitaire;
Saturday the vows that bind me!

—Thomas Walsh.

Thousands Have Kidney

Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.
Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original cause undermines the system.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage.
It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.
You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr.
Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

A Wash Twice a Year.

A charming Hungarian countess once said to me, "What is so nice about the men from England is that they look so clean, as if they had just come from a swim." Of course we pride ourselves on our morning tubs, splash and splutter and shiver and polish up with rough towels. "What dirty people those English are," remarked an Italian; "when they find it necessary to wash all over every day! Why, I only wash twice a year!" I have met Chinese who regard washing all over as a proceeding decidedly improper. A Chinese is washed when he is born, and he has no other altogether wash till he is dead. But we British people have adopted cleanliness only of recent years. Small houses have their bathrooms, but very few houses built over half a century ago were provided with bathrooms. I suppose those must have been the days of the Saturday night wash in the kitchen.
Certainly our gay cavalier ancestors in silks and ruffles must have been a dirty gang. Handkerchiefs were not invented, and the velvet cloaks must often have been greasy. The reluccing old times were very dirty old times.—Baths, Pleasant and Otherwise.

The Don't Worry Theory.

The usual advice given to the worrier is, "Don't worry." This advice is foolish because impractical. No one can stop thinking one type of thought except by substituting for it another.
Besides, it is dangerous advice, for,
even supposing one could mechanically put an end to a worrying state of mind, he would simply be like an engineer who should plant himself on the safety valve of his engine. The energy expended in worry, turned inward on itself, would tear the mental mechanism to pieces. No! What the worried man or woman needs evidently is to be taught how to find a healthful outlet for his or her nervous power thus going to waste. If we say "Don't worry," let us also be careful to add,
"But work," and let us also point out what kind of work should be undertaken and the spirit in which it ought to be done. In other words, what the worrier needs is re-education.—Rev. S.
S. McComb in Harper's Bazar.

Jefferson Davis' Ambition.

Jefferson Davis was a man of most sincere conviction and courageous action, and when the Southern Confederacy was about to be organized his single ambition was the command of the Confederate army. This I had from his own lips at his residence at Beauvoir, Miss., some fifteen years after the war. He told me that when he started for Montgomery, Ala., when the movement began for the organization of the Confederacy he hoped to be called to the command of the army, but before he reached Montgomery he was advised of his election as pro-visionary president. When he reached the new capital of the Confederacy he found it impossible to change conditions, and he was compelled to accept the presidency, and he entered upon that duty as conscientiously as any public man ever entered upon an official career.—Colonel A. K. McClure in "Confederate Veterans."

A Yggis Story.

For fourteen years Bava Luchman Dass received from the priests of the Black Caves of central India the necessary education in order to become a yogi, as a yoga must be capable of taking the forty-eight postures of the Hindoo idols. Perhaps the greatest trick consists in balancing himself on the ends of his fingers while the whole of his body is in the air. Bava stated that in order to obtain the rank of yogi in the Black Caves of India he had to continue in this position on the ends of his fingers under the eyes of the judges, without a second's interval, for seven days and nights!—Strand Magazine.

No one is immune from kidney trouble, so just remember that Foley's Kidney Remedy will stop the irregularities and cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine.

A Long Dance.

The longest dance on record is probably that of William Kemp, an actor of some celebrity in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. He was a comedian and danced all the way from London to Norwich.

He was attended by a taborer, a servant and an overseer, and it was doubtless a good thing for him that there were no omnibuses or police then, for they would probably have imposed more impediments in the way of his progress than did the country people.

He started with several presents of groats and crooked sixpences for luck, and, laden with these, he danced to Stratford with out rest.

Subsequently he went in for early rising to avoid market people, and, though suffering from a sprain of the hip which he received, he danced it well again, to the delight of the crowd which accompanied him, some 200 in number.

When he reached Norwich he had to dance in and out of the city twice, for his overseer missed him in the crowd and made him do the distance over again to avoid any possibility of error.—London Graphic.

Live Mule, Dead Boar.

An odd hunting adventure recently befell a British officer in India. He was mounted on a fleet mule and was running down a wild boar, intending to lance it, when the animal turned,
bit the mule's leg and then fled again.
The mule screamed savagely, and in a minute she had deposited the officer on the ground. Then, kicking out vigorously five or six times, as if to see that her legs were all right, she started after the unfortunate pig at lightning speed, with fury in her eyes and vengeance in the crook of her ears. The race was not long, and the wild boar soon realized that he had exasperated a relentless enemy. He was soon winded, and the mule, coming up with him, caught him by the backbone with her teeth, crunched it and threw him to the ground and then, before he could rise, kicked him so viciously that he was a dead boar in less than no time. Then the mule returned to her master and gave utterance to a "heehaw" of triumph.

Between Supper and Breakfast.

Many persons, says a well known doctor, though not ac- tually sick, keep below par in strength and general tone, and he is of the opinion that fasting during the long interval between supper and breakfast, and especially the complete emptiness of the stomach during sleep, adds greatly to the amount of emaciation, sleeplessness and general weakness we so often meet. It is logical to believe that the supply of nourishment should be somewhat continuous, especially in those who are below par, if we would counteract their emaciation and lower degree of vitality, and as bodily exercise is suspended during sleep, with wear and tear correspondingly diminished, while digestion, assimilation and nutritive activity continue as usual, the food furnished during this period adds more than is destroyed, and increased weight and improved general vigor are the results.—London Globe.

A Theater Dialogue.

The curtain had fallen on the first act at a Broadway theater when a man, correctly attired and apparently of refinement, leaned toward a woman occupying a seat directly in front of him—a woman who had naturally removed her hat, but whose hair was arranged in the extreme of fashion, aided by "boughten" puffs.

"I beg your pardon, madam," said the man in an audible whisper, "but if you would remove your hair and substitute your hat I believe I would be able to see something more of the stage."

The woman didn't scream. She didn't even faint. She merely turned around and replied:

"Jack, if you weren't my brother I'd slap your face."—New York Globe.

Her Little Confidence Game.

"We're playing railroad train," she said as she pulled her father's paper away. "and I'm the conductor. Tickets, please."

He took a card from his pocket and handed it to her. She looked at it intently for a minute and then handed it back. "That was issued yesterday," she said, "and isn't good today. You'll have to pay cash or get off the train."

He gave her a dime. He knew he had been "worked," but what else could he do?

Pitched It.

A boy was asked what Moses did with the tabernacle in the wilderness when the people murmured.

He replied, "He chucked it away."

When asked to explain he read the seventh verse of the thirty-third chapter of Exodus, "And Moses took the tabernacle and pitched it without the camp, afar off from the camp."—Liverpool Mercury.

Night Rates For a Horse.

"Hicks, the hotel man, has a new scheme. He serves Welsh rabbit free to his guests evenings."

"What's his idea?"

"Well, they have nightmare, and then he charges them for the use of one horse."—Boston Transcript.

Concett.

Concett is that attitude of the mind which convinces a man that if he had only lived soon enough he would have been the author of the Bible.—Detroit Free Press.

I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided, and that is the lamp of experience. I know no way of judging of the future but by the past.
—Patrick Henry.

Get the New Foil Package, 5c.
And Smoke the Best!

For over a quarter of a century Five Brothers has been the favorite tobacco because it's always been the best. Today it's still the best, and everyone knows it.

FIVE BROTHERS
Pipe Smoking Tobacco

(A Good Chew, Too)

In the new, dust-proof, foil package, sold everywhere for 5c, it's better than ever before. When you want the cleanest, choicest and best pipe tobacco, don't let them pass off an inferior brand on you—call for Five Brothers, and see that you get it.

In the New Foil Package, 5c.

August Recreation

The midsummer number of this popular outdoor magazine will appeal to all. It is very profusely and attractively illustrated, its articles are timely, full of the spirit of the season, and most of them very helpful to those who are seeking the different methods of recreation.

A few of the leading articles, each one of them well illustrated, are
"Canoeing in the Surf," "A Trip Through Liverpool Waters in Canada," "Glimpses of Newfoundland,"
"Pack Horse Trip to Recreation Lake," "Building Recreation Houses," "Exploring the Wisconsin in a Canoe," "The Future of Wing Shooting," "Motor Boating on the Mississippi" and "Useful Hints for Outdoor People."

This number is now on all news stands and is well worth obtaining.
Outdoor News Company, New York.

How to Avoid Appendicitis

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated.
Foley's Orino Laxative cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels and restores the natural action of the bowels. Foley's Orino Laxative does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Rebuse substitutes. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Candles for Tired Eyes

When the excessive light of the gas-jet or the electric bulb tires weak eyes, resort to the good, old tallow candle.

In sick rooms, where a candle would do the best service during the night, it is entirely forgotten, and the tired eyes of the invalid are forced to endure a light that perhaps is constantly working injury and adding nervousness to the other malady.

Furnishing a holder with one for each bedroom can be done at small cost with good result. Shades might also be bought for them at a small cost and give them even a neater appearance and save them from flickering in airy rooms.

For the sick room wax candles are preferred as they never produce smoke or smell.

They seem to soothe the nerves of the invalid and in this way help to produce a restful night.

Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. Ed.
D. Heckerman.

Lace in Neckwear

Irish lace is much used for high stocks with bows or rabats to match, but real valenciennes and real cluny are quite as popular in the province of neckwear, and even the good imitation valenciennes gives excellent results, though it is wiser to avoid Irish and cluny if one cannot afford the real article.

There's nothing so good for a sore throat as Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.
Cures it in a few hours. Relieves any pain in any part.

Calling Cards

On short notice The Gazette can furnish you with calling cards neatly printed. We feel sure we can please you. Call and see our samples.

Advertise in
THE GAZETTE
For Good Results.

Names of Flowers

It is interesting to know how certain flowers get their names. Many were named after individuals. For instance: Fuchsias were so called because they were discovered by Leonard Fuchs. Dahlias were named for Andre Dahl, who brought them from Peru. The Camelia was so called for a missionary named Kamel, who brought some magnificent specimens of the flower to France from Japan. He called it the rose of Japan, but his friends changed it to Camelia. Magnolias were named in honor of Professor Magnol de Montpelier, who first brought the beautiful tree to France from America and Asia. Because they trembled with the wind is the meaning of Anemones. The Latin word to wash is lavare and lavender received its name because the Romans put the flowers into the water when they washed, to perfume their hands.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

HOTEL BOYER

Pittsburgh, Pa.,

is still running and will run as the only strictly American plan hotel in the city at $2.00 per day.

J. B. BOYER, Prop.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

The original
LAXATIVE cough remedy.

For coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. No opiates. Non-alcoholic.
Good for everybody. Sold everywhere.

The genuine
FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes.

Prepared only by Foley & Company, Chicago.
Ed. D. Heckerman, Druggist, Bedford

If You Are Too Thin
Don't over exercise.
Sleep all you can.

Don't worry, hurry, or get in a hurry.

Don't lose your temper or let trifles irritate you.

Eat freely of flesh-making foods,
but not enough to ruin your digestion which means greater angularity.

Drink at your meals and take plenty of water, as well as cocoa, chocolate and milk.

Rest frequently, keep in the open air and sleep in a well-ventilated room.

Learn to dress to conceal your defects. You may think it is hard to do, but it isn't a circumstance to the trouble your stout sister has to mask her flesh.

KILL THE COUGH
AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS
AND COLD
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Hartley Banking Co.

BEDFORD, PA.

John M. Reynolds
Allen C. Blackburn
Fred A. Metzger
J. Frank Russell
Simon H. Sell
J. Anson Wright, Frank E. Colvin, Cashier, Solicitor.

UNENCUMBERED INDIVIDUAL
ASSETS OVER $500,000.

Three Per Cent. Interest Paid on Time Deposits.

Individual Liability to all de-positors and persons doing business with this firm.

This institution, in existence over 30 years, invites a continuance of the patronage of this business. Loans made on reasonable terms. Accounts and deposits solicited.

CHASE BROS. NURSERY CO.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

With their location, equipment and fifty years' experience can furnish the best Fruit and Ornamenta-Trees, Shrubs, Roses, Grape Vines, and Small Fruits on the market.
Their agent with his education and past experience knows what you should plant, when and how.

ROSS F. LEE,

County Phone. Bedford, Pa.

EXCLUSIVE AGENCIES

For Genuine Chickering & Sons
Hardman, Strick & Zeldner, Cable-
Frederick, Schubert, Kimball, Price
& Teeple, Story & Clark, Haines
Bros., Foster, Kingsbury, Regal,
Knabe, Fischer, and other pianos;
Estey, Lehr, Chicago Cottage, and Kimball Organs; Chase & Baker and Hardman Piano Players.

Anyone purchasing a piano from this Agency will have fare to and from Cumberland paid, giving opportunity to select from large stock of W. F. Frederick.

LYONS COMPANY, Agents,
Bedford, Pa.

PATENTS

PROCESSED AND DEFENDED. Specially drawing, planning and securing of Free advice how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at 525 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

CASNOW

The Lady of The Lilacs.

By Phillip Kean.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Sherwood called her "The Lady of the Lilacs" because always on spring days there was a bunch of lilacs on her desk, offerings from the girls to a best loved teacher.

"You simply can't help loving her," Betty Baynes said to Sherwood in her emphatic young girl way. "You simply can't help it, Uncle Jack."

"I don't see," Uncle Jack ventured, "where her particular charm comes in."

"She's so sweet," Betty analyzed, "and dainty—and—and—sad"—Betty was getting into deep water. "Anyhow, she's lovely."

Sherwood always called for his niece after school and drove her out to Sherwood farm, where Betty and her widowed mother made their home with him. The farm was beyond the town—a great place, with great barns, where were housed the beautiful horses that had made the farm famous.

As he sat in the trap waiting he could look right into the windows of the room where Miss Duval taught, and he could see her head bent over her desk, with the great bunch of lilacs making a background.

"Look here," he said to Betty one afternoon as they drove away in the sunshine, "I'd like to paint her that way."

"What was?" asked Betty. "Paint Miss Duval—just her head, bent a little, against a background of lilac blooms, with a circle of gold inclosing it like a halo."

"Oh, Uncle Jack," Betty's face was beaming, "it would be beautiful."

"I'd call it 'The Lady of the Lilacs,'" Sherwood planned. "By George, Betty, I believe it would be the best thing I've done."

But "The Lady of the Lilacs" when approached refused to be painted. "Oh, please tell Mr. Sherwood," she said breathlessly, "that I couldn't think of such a thing. I am sure he can find a better model, Betty."

"He can't," Betty said obstinately. "Please, please, Miss Duval."

The little teacher shook her head. "Don't insist, dear," she said. "I really cannot."

"Now, what do you think of that, Uncle Jack," said Betty, almost in tears, as they drove away that night.

"I don't know what to think," said Sherwood. "I hate to give up the idea."

"Well, don't give it up," Betty said. "You know you always get your own way when you want it, Uncle Jack."

"Yes, I do," said Sherwood thoughtfully.

Several days later when Betty came out of the school arm in arm with the little teacher Sherwood met them at the door.

"Won't you let us drive you home, Miss Duval?" he urged. "We will go the long way round, and it will do you good."

Miss Duval hesitated. "Oh," she began, but Betty interrupted: "Of course you'll go. You've never driven behind the Buckner team, and they are such beauties."

It developed that Miss Duval was from Kentucky and that she loved horses. "I used to ride a great deal out there," she admitted.

"Why can't you ride here?" Sherwood demanded. "We have a half dozen ladies' mounts in the stables that are growing fat and lazy for want of exercise."

"I haven't a habit," Miss Duval demurred.

"I have two," Betty announced promptly, "and you can wear one."

On Saturday Miss Duval in Betty's covert cloth habit and three cornered hat and mounted on Hulda Buckner was a transformed creature.

"I thought she was pretty," was Sherwood's mental comment, "but, by Jove, she's a beauty."

And more and more he yearned to paint her.

To that end he paid her most devoted attention, and it became a regular thing for the little teacher to spend the week ends at Sherwood farm. Betty's mother found her charming.

"I am glad to have Betty under her influence," she told her brother. "She is a lady to her finger tips."

"Yes," Sherwood agreed moodily, "but I wish she would let me paint her as 'The Lady of the Lilacs.'"

His sister stared indignantly. "I don't believe you ever look at a woman except from the standpoint of art."

Sherwood laughed. "I don't fall in love easily, if that is what you mean," he said and shrugged his shoulders and went on.

That afternoon he sauntered down to the end of the big garden where Dulcie Duval was pouring tea. The little table was set under a lilac bush, and the fragrance of the blossoms filled the air.

Betty, on the other side of the bush, was playing tennis with a boy from town. Mrs. Baynes had been called to the house, and Sherwood was alone with the Lilac Lady.

"I wish you would let me paint your picture," he said to her.

"No," she said slowly. "I am not sure that I like the idea of my picture hanging in a gallery for the public to gaze at."

"Surely," Sherwood urged, "one should not keep beauty hidden."

"I am not beautiful," she said quietly. She leaned back in the big wicker chair. Her face was very pale, and there were shadows under her eyes. Behind her the lilacs tossed their pale purple plumes in the spring breeze.

"I am not beautiful," she repeated,

"but I think I ought to tell you why I do not want my picture placed before the public."

It was such a simple little tale. She was married. That was the fact that was borne in upon him with stunning force. Her husband had been her father's choice, not her own.

"We were rich," she explained, "but after my father's death my husband spent everything we had, and I was very unhappy. So I ran away and took my maiden name. And that is why I do not want my picture to appear. I do not want him to find me."

She said it vehemently, with a little flush on her cheeks. "My father said love would come," she went on hurriedly, "but it did not. I felt for Betty's sake I ought to tell you. It's such unpleasant history that you might not care to have me with her so much."

Sherwood flung up his head. Suddenly it seemed to him that there was nothing that he so much wished to do as to shelter her from misfortune.

"Betty will always be honored by your presence, as we all are—as we shall always be," he said, and she smiled at him and held out her hand.

"Somehow I felt that I had found a friend," she said simply. "That is why I told you. It seemed best, and I knew you would understand."

That afternoon Sherwood went for a long ride on his favorite horse, Maxtel, and during that ride he fought a battle. Now that Dulcie Duval was out of reach she seemed the most desirable thing in the world. Indeed, from the first moment she had been desirable, but he had let the artist in him blind the lover. He had made himself think that it was her picture, not herself, that he wanted.

And now that he knew that he loved her he felt that he must go away—back to Paris to the studio—to the dreams that had of late been partially submerged in his practical plans for Sherwood farm.

When he came back that night, Betty met him on the porch.

"We are going for a ride early in the morning," she said, "Miss Duval and I, and I want you to go with us."

"Not tomorrow, Bettykins," he demurred. "I've got a lot of things to do. I am planning to spend the summer in Paris."

Betty's dismayed exclamation brought his sister and Miss Duval.

"He's going away," Betty cried, "and he doesn't know when he will come back."

And Sherwood, watching the face of the Lady of the Lilacs, saw it grow pale, and his heart leaped at the thought that she cared.

In the early morning from his bedroom window he saw them ride away. Five minutes later he was at the stables. "How does it happen that Miss Duval is riding Maxtel?" he demanded of a groom.

"Hulda is lame," said the man, "and Miss Duval insisted on riding Maxtel. We tried to get her to have one of the other mounts, but she wouldn't."

"Maxtel can't be trusted," said Sherwood sharply, "not with a lady. He never likes the flutter of skirts."

"I know, sir." The man looked worried.

"Well, get Buckner Belle ready," Sherwood ordered, "and I'll go after them."

As he cantered down to the gate a boy met him with a telegram. With out looking at the address, Sherwood tore it open, then as a half dozen words confronted him he saw that it was not for him, but for Miss Duval. Her husband was dead, her lawyer wired, and she must come at once.

In that moment the whole world changed for Sherwood. He knew that it was unseemly for him to grow light hearted because of the death of a fellow creature. But for her it meant freedom, for him happiness.

He paid the boy and spurred his horse to greater speed, and at last he saw ahead of him Betty on a sturdy little mare; Dulcie, holding in Maxtel, who danced along the road in a way that spelled danger.

And even as Sherwood looked Maxtel bolted!

And after him, like a shot, went Buckner Belle.

The big horse was not a match for the brilliant mare, and presently Sherwood was beside Dulcie, his hand on Maxtel's bridle.

Maxtel, meek as a lamb at the sound of the well known voice, stopped so suddenly that Dulcie swayed and slipped from his back inertly. Sherwood dropping the bridles, caught her in his arms.

"Dulcie," he said impulsively; "Dulcie, dear!"

She opened her eyes. "Please," she said faintly, "let me go. You must not."

"Hush!" he said. "You are not strong enough to stand alone, and you have a right here. You are free at last, dear heart."

Her startled eyes met his. "How?" she questioned.

"He is dead," he said quietly. "You are to go to Kentucky this afternoon. Betty's mother will go with you."

He released her then and went on in steady tones.

"But you will come back, Dulcie. When you feel that it is right—you will come back—to me."

Betty was pounding down the road on the sturdy mare. Dulcie looked up at Sherwood, strong and grave between the beautiful horses.

"Yes," she said, and suddenly her face was illumined. "Yes, I will come back, and you shall paint me—your 'Lady of the Lilacs.'"

Feminine Amenities.
"What did you think of the wedding?" Was I nervous?"

"Well, a little at first, dear, but not after Reggie had said 'I will.'—Harper's Weekly.

Wanted, For Sale, Rent, Etc.

Wanted—Two waitresses and a cook for hotel. Apply at this office.

Wanted—Girls to learn to sew; board and lodging furnished. Mrs. William Snell, Bedford.

For Sale—A Jersey bull calf four months old; eligible for registry. Write or phone C. A. Koontz, Rainsburg, Pa. Aug. 7-2t.

A reward of $10 will be given for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons doing damage to school property. School Board of Colerain Township.

PIANO TUNER

Chester A. Mason, with Sykes' Orchestra, Bedford Springs, will guarantee satisfaction. Orders may be left at Jordan's drug store or Bedford Springs Hotel.

Representative Wanted—We want a representative to handle Ford automobiles in Bedford and vicinity. Live hustler can easily clear $2,000 in season. Write with reference at once. FORD MOTOR COMPANY, Dept. H., Detroit Michigan.

Pianos Moved in Safety

A. Sammel, agent for the celebrated Blasius Pianos and others, is now thoroughly equipped to move and handle pianos with perfect ease and safety. All work of this class entrusted to his care will receive prompt and careful attention.

Roofing and Spouting and repair work. Roofing of all kinds—metal, shingles, galvanized iron and tin. Slatting a specialty.

H. F. PRICE,
Second Door North of Fisher House.

LADY WANTED

Honest, industrious woman wanted to introduce our large line of foreign and domestic dress goods, waists, trimmings, etc., among friends, neighbors and townspeople. We prefer a woman who has a trade already worked up. Should be able to earn $25 or more weekly. Dealing direct from the mills our prices are low and patterns exclusive. No money required. Write us for full particulars. Standard Dress Goods Co., 100 7th St., Binghamton, N. Y.

REWARD!

A liberal reward is offered for the discovery of the following persons:

1. Any widow, orphan, or other beneficiary, who, upon the receipt of the insurance money, has disparaged life insurance.
2. A widow who, upon receiving the proceeds of her husband's policy, has complained that he carried too much insurance.
3. Any beneficiary under any policy who, at its maturity, has claimed that the insurance ought to have been for a smaller sum.

J. ROY CESSNA,
General Agent Equitable Life Assurance Society, Ridenour Block, Bedford, Pa.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

John Howard Harris, Ph. D., LL.D., President.

Fall Term opens Sept. 17, 1908. A Twentieth Century Institution. Fixed and working capital over one million dollars. Fifteen buildings, modern facilities.

College: Courses in Arts, Philosophy, Jurisprudence, Science, Biology, Chemistry, Civil and Electrical Engineering. Women's College comprises College, Institute, Music and Art Courses. Academy for young men and boys. For catalogue, etc., address the Registrar.

WM. C. GRETZINGER, Lewisburg, Pa.

JUNIATA COLLEGE

The Fall term will begin Monday, September 14th. There will be regular instruction in the College, Academy, Teachers' School, Bible School, School of Music and Business School. Catalogue sent upon application. I. Harvey Brumbaugh, Acting President, Huntingdon, Pa. July 31-7t.

SALE REGISTER

All persons having sale bills printed at this office get a free notice in the sale register. This is worth several times the price of the bills.

At 1 p. m. Friday, August 14, at residence near Oppenheimer, Mrs. Watson Zimmers will sell cow and calf, hogs, chickens, buggy, harness, blankets, can cream separator, churn, kettles, crocks, feed chest, chairs, carpet rags, etc.

Saturday, August 22, at 2 p. m. at Pleasantville, T. P. Beckley will sell the real estate of the late Mary Ann Beckley, viz: one lot of ground having thereon erected a two-story frame house and frame stable.

Besides its excellent reputation in advancing student's along intellectual lines, the Lock Haven State Normal School is unsurpassed for its splendid advantages. Its large student body is handled as if it were a family and the welfare of each one is considered. It has a fine location and is well equipped. Address the Principal for an illustrated catalogue.

Advertising is not the art of pleasing one's self by putting words on paper; it is communicating ideas to others.

Barnett's Store

August Needs at Saving Prices

Glass Fruit Jars

We own one hundred and fifty dozen Mason's quart jars at last year's prices. Today they are worth double what we paid for them. As long as the present lot lasts you can buy them at a great saving.

Tin Fruit Cans

Are more in demand this season than for some years, owing to the fact that glass jars are costing much more. We are prepared to supply your wants at lowest prices for good quality cans. Also best quality Sealing Wax and Wax Strings.

Preserving Kettles

Extra quality blue and white, 12 quart size, 50c; 14 quart size, 65c. Heavy four-coated tin preserving kettles, size 8 quarts, 25c; 10 quarts, 30c.

Eight ounce JELLY GLASSES with lids, 25c per dozen.

White Stone Jars,

Well glazed all over, 1, 2 and 4 quart, 6, 7 and 8c.

We have a car to arrive next week and will then be prepared to give you anything you may want in the stoneware line from one quart to 30 gallon size; also many stoneware novelties.

Pure Paraffine to cover jelly, preserves, &c., 10c cake.

You will find this store at all times filled with the best grades of Cooking Utensils at lowest prices.

If your old ice cream freezer is not satisfactory, come here and let us sell you one that will do the work well in eight minutes; 3 quart size, $1.98.

P. S.—Don't forget that we are selling Shoes below their value this week—we told you all about it last week.

Barnett's Store

BEDFORD, PA.

